

PERSONAL.

Miss Alt left this morning for Niagara Falls over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

Smith Dawson, Sr., is ill at his home on First street.

J. C. Long of the West Side, has returned home, after spending a week fishing at Guard Md. He brought 14 bass home with him.

Mrs. W. F. Lazelle of Pittsburg, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lazelle of South Prospect street, left this morning for a visit with relatives in Cumberland, Md., and Newburg, W. Va.

Mrs. Kennedy of Fairbairn, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Buttermore of North Pittsburgh street today.

Mrs. R. E. Ash of Clarkburg, W. Va., arrived here this morning for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rehner of Witter avenue.

Mrs. J. E. Hutter of Arch street, is visiting in Pittsburg today.

F. J. Stader of Latrobe, has returned home, after a visit with his son, J. L. Stader of West Main street.

J. N. Kelly returned home Sunday, after a several days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Winchell of Monongahela.

We refuse to acknowledge that there are any better clothes made anywhere at any price, than those we make.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hays of Scottsdale, stopped in town yesterday on her way to East Liberty to visit her mother, Mrs. H. B. Snyder.

Miss Carrie Hays of Waynesburg, and Mrs. J. H. Hays of Scottsdale, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hays at Scottsdale, have gone to Dunbar to visit their cousin, Mrs. G. W. Greenwald.

Mrs. G. W. Greenwald, Mrs. Myers and Miss Hays are sisters of Mr. Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hays and son, Page, went to Somerset yesterday for a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jordan of Scottsdale, spent yesterday at Mill Run.

Miss Emma Thomas, a teacher in the McKeesport school, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Mrs. S. B. Dobbie and children have returned home from a visit with the former sister, Mrs. Robert Orr, and other relatives in Pennsylvania.

Mr. B. H. Shupe will close her home on North Pittsburgh street and tomorrow will leave for Edenboro, Pa., to reside. Mrs. Shupe recently purchased a fine residence in Edenboro, her former home.

Garbald Bufano of Morgantown, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Bufano.

Mrs. Emma Loughrey Miller of Waynesburg, is visiting relatives in Dawson.

Attorney Charles Rich of Uniontown was in town yesterday on his return from Dawson, where he spent Sunday with relatives.

Walter Davis of Pittsburg was a Sunday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rose on North Pittsburgh street.

Miss Rose Leach has returned home from Clifton, where she was the guest of Mrs. William Leach.

Mail Carrier A. R. Seaman has returned to work, after a two weeks' vacation.

John Smith was called here from Baltimore this morning by the serious illness of his nephew, John Peterson, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson of Eighth street, Greenwood.

Misses Rose and Alice Donagan, Miss Margaret Faran, Misses Margaret and Winnie Hartigan, who spent the past week at Camp Lake, have gone to Niagara Falls to spend the remainder of their vacation.

Mrs. Harry Lutzman of Uniontown was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Millard of Tenth street.

Mrs. James Baldwin of Grand Ford, visited relatives here yesterday.

Miss May Duke of Los Angeles, Cal., is the guest of Miss Elsie Humbert at "The Doudlers," South Connelville.

Warren Dawson of South Connelville went to Morgantown yesterday to visit friends for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kist left yesterday for Erie to visit Mr. and Mrs. Kist's mother and sister, Mrs. Mary Snyder.

Harry Blacklin, 10 years old, is seriously ill of a brain fever at his home on South Arch street. He is a son of T. S. Blacklin, engineer on the Fairmont passenger train.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kist of Cottage Avenue have gone to Atlantic City, Philadelphia and New York for two weeks.

Miss Ethel Potter and Miss Arminia Dull went to Pittsburg this morning to spend the day after a week's visit with Mrs. C. L. Martie.

Mrs. Mary McFarland, a scenographer in Pittsburg, spent Sunday at her home here.

Patronize those who advertise.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

How Would an Outing on Foreign Shores Suit You?

It isn't too late to take a trip to Europe this summer. Guide a number of old travelers prefer to cross the big pond in August, enjoy the cool ocean breezes, and escape torrid weather at home. The Foreign Department of the First National Bank will reserve your steamship passage and berth or cabin, furnish you with a Letter of Credit or Travelers' Cheques and procure your passport. In fact, in any foreign transaction you will do well to consult the First National—direct agent for all steamship lines. Reasonably low fares. Foreign money bought and sold. Money orders on all parts of the world. All languages spoken. 129 W. Main street—Adv.

Married in Chilborton.

George Leroy of Leesending No. 1 and Blanche Cissidy of Coal Springs, were married yesterday afternoon at the Second Presbyterian parsonage in Uniontown by the pastor, Dr. W. Scott Folsom. After a visit with friends in Pittsburg and other Western cities, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis will be at home at Leesending No. 1.

Licensed to Wed.

Charles H. Grondoff of Chilborton, and Grace G. Davis of South Connelville, were granted a marriage license in Uniontown yesterday.

POPE TO PROCLAIM NEW DOGMA AS THE CLIMAX OF CAREER

Assumption of Virgin Mary to be a Fundamental Catholic Doctrine.

FIRST PROCLAMATION SINCE '70

In That Year Infallibility of the Pope Was Incorporated in the Doctrine of the Church; Only Two Dogmas Proclaimed Since Council of 1854.

BY HENRY WOOD.

Rome Correspondent of United Press.

Rome, July 22.—Pope Pius XIII. today announced that he has decided to proclaim the dogma of the infallibility of the Virgin Mary. This is the first time since 1854 that the pope has proclaimed a new dogma.

It is now known that since his recent illness, Pope Pius, realizing that his active pontificate is practically at an end, has expressed the desire to some of the highest dignitaries of the Catholic Church at Rome to extend his career by this last great act. Putting his entire pontificate, Pope Pius X has devoted practically his entire time, effort and energy to the building up of the religious side of the church only, paying little, if any attention, to the political side which had been the sole concern of his predecessor, Pope Leo XIII. He has promulgated reform after reform against the clergy, he has sought to stamp out all the modernistic and progressive tendencies that he says would weaken the fundamental doctrines of the church, and he has reorganized all of the congregations and working machinery of the religious side of the Vatican.

The proclamation of this new dogma by him now, as the last great act of his pontificate would be in perfect harmony, he is said to feel, with the fact that he has sought to accomplish up to date, it would stamp his entire pontificate as one essentially and wholly religious.

As the matter now stands it is the high authority that the dogma of the infallibility of the Virgin Mary, which he has expressed this desire have replied that there is no reason why it should not be proclaimed. Although not a dogma of the church, it has ever been one of the accepted traditions and beliefs of the Catholic religion that the Virgin Mary upon her death ascended to heaven—did Christ—and that her body was not to be found in the tomb afterwards. For Pope Pius X to proclaim this now as a fundamental doctrine of the church would merely be giving the official sanction to what the church fathers, almost from the foundation of the church, have always accepted as true.

The dogma of the infallibility of the Virgin Mary is now a part of the fundamental doctrine of the church, such a proclamation would carry with it what would be considered nothing less than divine sanction. It was this doctrine of the infallibility of the Virgin Mary that was in fact the last dogma to be proclaimed by a pope of Christendom, was in 1854. The feast of the assumption of the Virgin Mary is now set down in the Catholic calendar of established feast days for August 15. It is on this day, it is now believed that Pope Pius will make his proclamation. As the dogma of the infallibility of the Virgin Mary is now set down in the Catholic calendar of established feast days for August 15. It is on this day, it is now believed that Pope Pius will make his proclamation. As the dogma of the infallibility of the Virgin Mary is now set down in the Catholic calendar of established feast days for August 15. It is on this day, it is now believed that Pope Pius will make his proclamation.

CLOUDED BRAIN

Clears Up on Change of Proper Food.

The brain cannot work with clearness and accuracy, if the food taken is not fully digested but it is retained in the stomach to ferment and form poisonous gases, etc. A dull, clouded brain is likely to be the result.

A Michigan lady relates her experience in changing her food habits, and results in very interesting.

A steady diet of rich, greasy foods such as sausage, butter, meat, etc., and so on, finally broke down a stomach and nerves that, by inheritance, were sound and strong, and medicine did no apparent good in the way of relief.

"My brain was clouded and dull and I was suffering from a case of constipation that defied all remedies used. 'The Road to Wellville,' in some providential way, fell into my hands, and many Heaven's richest blessings fell on the man who was inspired to write it.

"I followed directions carefully, the physical culture and all, using Glaxo-Nuts with sugar and cream, leaving meat, pastry and hot biscuit entirely out of my bill of fare. The result—I am in perfect health once more.

"I never realize I have nerves, and my stomach and bowels are in fine condition. My brain is perfectly clear and I am enjoying that state of health which God intended His creatures to enjoy, and which all men have by giving proper attention to their food."

Same given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in place "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new approach from this to those. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.—Adv.

May Intervene in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Intervention in Mexico by this government within 30 days if order is not restored and American interests are not protected was proposed in the House this morning by Representative Murray of Oklahoma.

May Intervene in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Intervention in Mexico by this government within 30 days if order is not restored and American interests are not protected was proposed in the House this morning by Representative Murray of Oklahoma.

SOCIETY.

Visitors at Camp Lolly.

A reunion of the H. S. Faust family of Mount Pleasant, was held Sunday at Camp Lolly at Indian Mond. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Faust; Raymond Faust, Miss Faust, Margaret Faust, William Faust, Eugene Faust, Miss Faust, John Snodden, Miss Agnes Snodden, J. A. Watson, Mrs. John H. Brown, Ward Brown, Mrs. Thomas Eddies, Mary Eddies, Mount Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Nabors, Nora Nabors and Bryan Nabors, Connelville, Mr. and Mrs. John Faust, Editha Faust, Elsie Faust, Mabel Faust, Virginia Faust, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilcox, Clyde Wilcox, Howard Wilcox, Laine Wilcox, Hattie Christner, Lydia Lohi, Mrs. D. M. Faust, Miss Lizzie Lohi, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mitterer and children, Myrtle, Nellie and Frances, and Frank Faust.

Editha Christner to Meet.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Circle No. 100 to the Grand Army of the Republic, will be held Thursday afternoon in Odd Fellows' Hall. Refreshments will be served at the close of the business meeting.

Bible Class Meets.

The monthly business meeting of the W. A. Telle Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church was held last evening at the home of J. H. Hooper on Sixth street, West Side. There was a good attendance and at the close of the business meeting a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

Prayer Sisters to Meet.

The Prayer Sisters will meet on Thursday afternoon in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Bible Class Meeting.

The W. W. Pickett Bible Class will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Mary Root on North Third street, West Side. All members are invited.

Teachers Elected.

Somerset Township School Board Board Selects Its Corps.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, July 22.—The Somerset township school board at a meeting on Saturday elected the following teachers for the ensuing year:

Ankney, Ralph M.; Zerkow, Buer, Charles W.; Emert, Broom, Lydia; Pyle, Coleman; Besse, Schrock; Cupp, Milton A.; Baker, Fredrick—advanced; C. J. Larmon; Alvin; Albert, J. J.; Menert, Hunter, P. E.; Dickey; Hubbard—advanced; J. G. Sellers; primary, Anna G. Stahl; Lavanville, Lulu E.; Prizer; Linton—grammar, George L. Meisner; Intermediate, Catherine Schmitt; primary, Sadie Secher; Pleasant Hill, W. F. Fritz; Plank Road, Besse Suter; Shaulis, Bertha; Spangler, Samuel; Esilo Schrock.

South Somerset—grammar, Lloyd V. Simpson; Intermediate, Luzzan Young; first primary, Lattie; second primary, Grace Emert; North Somerset—Laura Loe; East Somerset, A. B. Graf; Stevestown Road, Minnie Biddinger; Union, Mae Paoli; Walker, Otto Adams; Walker Grove, M. G. Leiby; Wells Creek, Oscar Mosgrove; Will, Roy S. Baylor.

Home From Fishing Trip.

W. L. Wright has arrived home from a fishing trip to Georgian Bay, Canada. Mr. Wright accompanied by W. Wright and sons, Dana and Frank, who arrived home last week. The party had excellent fishing. They were fishing for bass and caught more than they could use. Rainy weather is the only objectionable feature of the trip.

Photograph Production.

Photograph was produced in 1912 in five states, Illinois, Kentucky, Colorado, New Hampshire and New Mexico. Newly discovered photographic prints are reported near Dunfield, Jefferson, Morrison and Waggonwheel Gap, Colo., and a small quantity was produced at the first three of these localities.

Infant Is Buried.

The funeral of John F. Schomer, the two months old son of F. G. and Ethel Maple Schomer, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from Our Lady of Mount Carmel Italian Church. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Bomb Sent Carnegie.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Inspector Owen Egan of the bureau of commerce will retire to his little den this afternoon. He is a small, thin, middle-aged man with a friendly smile. He is a native of New York and has been in the bureau for many years.

Whittier's Brook Div.

EAST HAVEN, Conn., July 22.—The brook of which the water broke the dam of whose liquid life he seemed to him companionship," is drying up. The "Barfoot Boy" now wades in a neighboring creek.

Two Face Burgers.

Only two prisoners were brought before Burgess Evans this morning. Frank Morgan, colored, and Robert Harkins were arrested for being drunk. Harkins was discharged but Morgan drew 48 hours.

Mrs. Lutzman's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Evelyn Lutzman, mother of R. F. Lutzman of Connelville, took place Sunday morning from the family residence at Oldtown, Pa. Mrs. Lutzman was 77 years old.

Attending Convention.

William Thompson, Donnie Taylor and Josephine Washington are in Pittsburg attending a convention of the Sunday School and League of the A. M. Church. J. V. Swanson will attend this evening's session.

The audit of the Connelville township school board's accounts has been completed by W. S. Dindley and B. R. Vetter. The amount of the audit per month in the district is $2.06.

Dies at Somerset.

Ellish Whoolety, 61 years old, of Newfield, died yesterday at Somerset.

Hunting Bargains.

If so, read our advertising columns and you will find them.

One Cent a Word.

For classified advertisements, try them.

MRS. CLARENCE H. MACKAY LEASES FINE RESIDENCE IN PORTLAND, ME.

PORTLAND, Me., July 22.—Society here is eagerly awaiting the coming of Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay of New York, who is to occupy the home of former Mayor Adam P. Loughton, which she has leased. It is one of the finest houses here and has been the scene of many entertainments. From its upper windows Mount Washington and other New Hampshire peaks are clearly visible. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant. The house is of Colonial design and was built for Henry Mackay, a prominent merchant.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Counterfeits, imitations and "just-as-good" are but experiments, and endanger the health of children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

After All

Footer's Is Best

EVERY fad claims its followers—the new always has its attraction, but when it comes to perfect satisfaction in Cleaning and Dyeing, you must come back to Footer's. The best is none too good for you, especially when it costs no more, so get the habit of sending it to Footer's.

J. W. McCLAREN, Agent

FOOTER'S DYE WORKS.

Exclusive Tailor and Haberdashery, Main Street

Rapid Vacuum Washer Coupon.

Tuesday, July 22, 1913.

Present this Coupon at The Courier office with 5 others of consecutive dates and and get this $3.50 Rapid Vacuum Clothes Washer.

98 Cents

NAME.....

P. O. ....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

The News of Nearby Towns.

METERSDALE.

METERSDALE, July 22.—Paul Mehling of Cumberland, Md., returned home last evening on train No. 12 after spending several days visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dahl of Olinburg street.

Frederick Taggart of Altoona, Pa., is here to spend several weeks visiting relatives and friends. He will also visit at Salisbury ere he returns home.

Mrs. Daniel Dahl, Burgess and Mrs. Joe F. Reich and J. M. Schlicht returned last evening from Lonaconing, Md., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Brady, mother of Rev. J. J. Brady, pastor of the local Catholic Church.

J. F. Higgins and Daniel Landis of Cumberland, were calling on friends here yesterday and today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blocker, Miss Margaret Blocker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rose, Ex-Sheriff and Mrs. Isiah Good and J. Preston Snyder, all of the country seat, spent Sunday afternoon with friends at this place, returning home the same evening in their touring cars.

George Schuber of Berlin, was among the out of town visitors to this place yesterday afternoon.

James Joyce of Joliet, was transacting business here this afternoon.

John D. Locke of Rockwood, member of a prominent furniture firm of that place, was here on a business errand yesterday.

Frederick Goelz, proprietor of the Merchants Hotel at Gettysburg, was a Meyersdale visitor yesterday afternoon between cuts.

James H. Black, who has been seriously ill for the past week, is reported as convalescing.

J. M. Duncan of Johnstown, who was for several days the guest of S. J. McClure, superintendent of the Shawnee Fire Brick Company, has returned home.

Miss Philine Rittler, who spent several days visiting her cousin, Miss Nell Cover, at the Colonial Hotel, returned last evening to her home in Roseville.

Mrs. William Smith of Opelika, Ala., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Wiland of Keystone street.

Councilman L. W. Wenckland, who one day last week was stricken with a serious attack of acute indigestion, has so far recovered as to be able to sit up, which will be good news for that popular gentleman's host of friends throughout southern Somerset county.

It is Bauman of this place, the latest manufacturer of ice cream in the county, spent the forepart of this week at Cumberland on a business errand.

Frank B. Black spent yesterday near Wilson Creek, where the Black Brothers are opening a new mine. They expect to be ready to ship coal within a month or six weeks. They will load all their coal at McSpadden, on the main line of the Connelville division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, a point about two miles east of Rockwood.

The Pittsburgh Collieries yesterday afternoon defeated the local baseball club by the score of 2 to 0. This afternoon the locals expect to defeat the 1st division, as they will have "Johnny" Stafford in the box, a twister of some note who until recently was a member of the local team, but now playing with the Cumberland team.

Mrs. Harry Clemons of Youngstown, O., is a guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Duxley of Main street.

The Misses Emma and Mary Miller of Somerset, spent Sunday with their friend, Miss Mary Pike of Beachley street.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, July 22.—Under-taker J. R. Vance and son had a double funeral today, that of J. L. Leech of Smithfield and Mrs. Jonathan Walls of Ruble. Both deaths occurred near the same time on Friday afternoon and both bodies were interred in the Baptist cemetery Sunday.

Mrs. Walls in the forenoon and J. L. Leech at P. M. Both funerals were largely attended especially that of Mr. Leech on account of his being almost a life long resident of this community and his prominence in church and educational work in the community. People from far and near came to pay their respects to one they had known so well and favorably.

A short service was held at the house on Liberty street, where maids had gathered long before the appointed time for the service. They followed the remains to the Presbyterian Church where the crowd was augmented by a visit throng that filled all the available space about the church yard, only a small portion of visitors gained admittance to the church.

Rev. G. A. Tucker, pastor of the church assisted by Rev. J. E. Dupper conducted the devotional exercises. A select choir rendered some choice and appropriate music at the house and church and also in the cemetery. Jerry Jones Post No. 241 Grand Army of the Republic of which the deceased was a member turned out in a body. The pall bearers were selected from the Post. They were James D. Low, G. W. Campbell, H. C. Hahn, J. A. Rankin, A. J. Smith and H. O'Neil.

Mrs. Walls although not so long a resident, had a large acquaintance who had learned to honor and respect her for her many Christian virtues. She was 69 years of age. She is survived by her husband, who is a Civil War veteran and a member of Jerry Jones Post Grand Army of the Republic of Smithfield and two sons, Andrew of Chicago and Samuel, who is a fireman on the Uniontown News-Herald.

H. O'Neil and wife gave a dinner Sunday to their relatives and friends a honor of their house guests Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Snyder of Wilkes-Barre. The following guests were present: J. A. Rankin and wife, P. A. Rankin and daughters, Nellie, Alice and Ruth, J. N. O'Neil and wife, and daughter Catherine. Mrs. H. J. Rankin and sons Ernest and James, Clarence Black and sister Nellie, all of Smithfield; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crow and sons Clayton and Playford of Martha; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crow and daughter Thelma and son Cameron, New Geneva; William Oranton and wife and daughter Lydia; Harry Miner and wife and daughters Mabel Grace and Devonia; George and Lloyd of Point Marion; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Coburn, Mrs. J. B. Wiggins and daughter Tillie of Uniontown; Mrs. Frank Lewis and son Lloyd of Fairbank; Mrs. Lloyd Miner, Mrs. Howard Phillips, Morgan-town, W. Va. This was a semi-family reunion to give those members of the family that was otherwise deprived of an opportunity of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Snyder before their return to their home in Wilkes-Barre. Mrs. Snyder is a twin sister of Mrs. O'Neil. They had not met before in 10 years.

INDIAN CREEK.

INDIAN CREEK, July 20.—P. D. Swearman spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eberhart near Mill Run the guest of Misses Annie and Mary Eberhart.

The following young boys of this place spent Sunday on a pleasant jaunt through the woods: Herman Price, Edward Elgman, Nathaniel King, John and William Thrauer, Fred Nicholow, Cecil, Carl and Edward Moore. They took luncheon with them and had a delightful time.

Jobe Thorpe spent Sunday here with his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorpe.

Warren Younkin spent Sunday with his parents near Mill Run.

H. C. Kropps spent Sunday with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorpe and son of Mill Run were guests of Mrs. Alfred Reed and Mrs. John May.

Mrs. T. B. May of Connelville spent a short while here Saturday evening between trains.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hyatt of Bidwell spent Sunday here with Mr. Hyatt's brother.

William Reed, sawyer and Harry Collins filer for the McFarland Lumber Company here spent Sunday with Humbert friends.

The Indian Creek Valley railroad had a large crowd over their line Sunday.

W. L. Walcott of Jones Mill had a slight paralytic stroke and is in a critical condition.

Miss Mary Painter of Rogers Mill left for Greensburg today to spend a few days with friends.

C. Ward Eicher of Greensburg, who has been spending a few days at the Pike Run Country Club, returned home today.

Dwight Homan of Connelville, who has been spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Homan of Mill Run, returned to Connelville today.

H. C. Kropps is at his home near Mill Run suffering with a severe attack of neuralgia.

ROCKWOOD.

ROCKWOOD, July 21.—The Rockwood Electric Company has completed the installation of a new and large generator at the plant which renders better services in every respect and is adjustable to furnish more power as the service requires.

Miss Rae Milhouse is the guest of friends and relatives at Latrobe for several weeks.

Mrs. L. D. Hechter returned home yesterday after four weeks' visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Maul of Bakersville, most of which time was spent at the bedside of her brother who died last week with typhoid fever.

Mrs. E. T. Fisher is spending several weeks as the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Tunnell of Black township.

Mrs. D. S. Kurtz and daughter Marie are spending several days as the guest of Chester Kurtz at Rowland.

Mr. Kurtz is the assistant ticket agent at Rowland.

At a meeting of the Black township school directors meeting at the Empire Hotel on Saturday last Calvin Newman was elected as principal of the South Rockwood school, and Miss Pearl Fleming was elected as primary teacher, both of Rockwood.

Mrs. Beckey Hayman of Confluence is spending several days this week as the guest of her sister Miss Margaret Delfino.

The ladies of the Lutheran Church expect to hold a festival on August 1 and 2 in the building formerly occupied by the postoffice.

The harvest home picnic of the Des Moines Sunday school will be held at the Milton Shank grove near the Pine Church on August 23.

Miss Sarah Marker has returned home after a several weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Vaughan of Winston Salem, N. C. Mr. Vaughan was formerly pastor of the Baptist Church here.

J. J. Endfield is seriously ill at his East Broadway street home.

DUNBAR.

DUNBAR, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pike of Connelville, were the guests of Mrs. Emma Crowe of Water street on Sunday.

Mrs. Locan McQuiggan and daughter, Florence, were visitors in Connelville today.

Rev. T. M. Gladden is ill at his home on Connelville street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hughes and children of Brownsville, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ford of Water street.

Mrs. M. M. Miller and sister, Mrs. P. J. Fallon were shopping in Connelville yesterday.

Antonio Bufano was transacting business in Connelville Monday.

Mrs. W. S. Gaudin, Mrs. W. A. Hughes and daughter, Mary Bella, were Connelville visitors on Monday.

Perry Bell and J. R. Foltz were business callers in Connelville today.

Much Coal Used for Coke Making.

The quantity of coal used for coke making in the United States in 1912 was 55,485,801 short tons, according to the United States Geological Survey. The coke produced from this coal amounted to 44,915,804 tons, valued at $11,623,36, besides large quantities of gas, tar, ammonia, etc. as by-products from the 11,618,189 tons of coke produced in by-product ovens.

OHIOPTLE.

OHIOPTLE, July 22.—David Dillinger spent Sunday at his home here.

From all prospects the corn crop will be an excellent one this year in this section. It is also reported to be a fine year for blackberries, but a failure in the apple crop.

Mrs. George Marietta and son of Humbert, are spending a few days in Connelville.

Miss Bessie Rush of Scottsdale, is making a few days' visit here with friends.

Misses Helen and Thelma Rush, after spending the past week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Rush at Scottsdale, returned to Ohioptle Monday morning.

William Herring returned to his home here, after a short visit with Rockwood friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Bailey and two children are spending this week with the former's parents at White Corner. William Ole fully mowed the cemetery last week.

Edward Bender of Confluence, was here on business Monday.

John Rush and son, William, departed for their home in Florida.

William Stewart was in town yesterday on business.

Mrs. Matcett, who spent the past week here, left for her home in Pittsburg Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knox and daughter left for their home in Connelville yesterday, after the past week spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jeffries on Sugar Loaf.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walters were Connelville shoppers and visitors on Monday.

John Holt was a business caller yesterday.

OHIOPTLE, July 21.—Misses Oma and Bertha Harbaugh of Victoria, spent Saturday calling on friends.

Mrs. John Burke and three children returned to their home here Saturday after visiting the past week in Friendsville, Md.

Mrs. Alfred Mitchell died at her home at Green Brier, Saturday night. Mrs. Mitchell had been an invalid for a number of years and her death was not unexpected. She is survived by her husband and daughter at home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. O'bert after a short visit with friends here, returned to their home at Fairchance last evening.

A. A. Corristan and daughter Miss Della, were among the shoppers in Connelville Saturday.

John Holland, Irwin Bailey and I. F. Woodman were business callers in Connelville Saturday.

Mrs. Silas Leonard of South Connelville, was in town Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson have returned to their home in Connelville after a few days spent among friends here.

Mrs. Newlan Burnworth left Saturday for her home in North Cumberland.

Paul Stull, who has spent the past several months in Evans, O., returned to his home here Saturday.

E. H. Kennedy was in Connelville Saturday on business.

H. C. Jones of Pittsburg spent Saturday and Sunday at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glatfely and son Edgar returned last evening to their home in Uniontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt spent Sunday the guest of friends in Uniontown.

John Hochstetler of near Pittsburg, spent Sunday in Connelville.

Orval Glatfely and Robert Nicholson were in Confluence Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Mitchell and children of Brownsville, arrived here Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hochstetler and two children were in Uniontown Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson.

A. M. Johnson of McKeesport spent Sunday with friends here.

Charles Anderson was among Confluence friends Sunday.

George Shipley of Beaver Creek, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home here.

Fred Rafferty was in Confluence Sunday.

CONFLUENCE.

CONFLUENCE, July 22.—Ralph Bowlin who works for the Westinghouse company in Pittsburg, visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bowlin Sunday.

B. O. Agent F. E. Weimer was a business caller in Pittsburg Monday.

N. R. Burnworth and four children are visiting Mr. Burnworth's mother at Johnson Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson and two daughters of Bellevue, are visiting Mrs. Ferguson's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bowlin and other friends here.

Ray Show who was visiting his grandmother and other friends at Uniontown, has returned home.

E. H. Burnworth of Johnson Chapel who was kicked by a horse, is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver and daughter Jean and G. R. McDonald visited E. J. McDonald and family at Addison Sunday.

Mrs. Agnes Swan of Connelville, formerly of this place, visited her daughter Mrs. V. W. Humbert and George Phillips here Sunday.

H. C. Humbert of Connelville, was visiting his father A. R. Humbert here Sunday between trains.

Work on Mrs. William Reiber's home in West Confluence is being pushed rapidly forward. J. W. Clouse is the contractor.

William A. Troy, a prominent merchant of Somerset, was here Monday on his way to Somerset on business.

Rev. William Grantz preached at Humbert Sunday. He was accompanied by his daughter Miss Myrtle.

T. A. Loure for some time proprietor of the Dodge House here is planning to move to Dunio, Pa. Charles Musquart who was formerly proprietor and who is the owner, will again take charge of the hotel.

Charles Koonz of Ursina was a business visitor here yesterday.

J. M. Glatfely, an aged and respected resident of this place, dropped dead Monday morning near Harned-

Buyer at the Market!

Twice each year all the leading manufacturers hold an exhibition at Chicago and Grand Rapids to which all big stores send their buyers to purchase their stocks for the ensuing season.

All the Buyers for Our Chain of Great Stores Are There Now and Word Has Been Received From Them That

We must close out every dollar's worth of stock now on hand, regardless of the necessary sacrifice, to make room for the immense purchases they are making. This Means—

You may take your pick of any article in this big furniture store at the mere fraction of its real value and pay for it on terms to suit your convenience.

Come Now, While Choosing Is at Its Best!

FEATHERMAN FURNITURE CO.

THREE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD THAT WILL CONSIDER RAILROAD DISPUTE.

ed last evening from a several weeks' visit with friends in Glassport.

Miss N. S. Byers is visiting friends at Belleverton.

Charles Lackey of West Newton, was a town caller on Sunday.

At and Mrs. Thomas Cortese spent Sunday with Banning friends.

His Wife Went to the Country.

LIMA, O., July 22.—Sammy McDowell is replying at leisure for the extreme joy over his wife's departure, which led him to celebrate with polka fireworks. The judge said "Five and costs."

It Will Pay You

To read our advertising columns.

NEW MEXICO COAL OUTPUT.

Production in 1912 increases Half a Million Dollars.

The output of coal in New Mexico in 1912 was the largest ever made, the production increasing from 3,148,158 short tons in 1911, valued at $4,525,525, to 3,636,824 tons in 1912, valued at $6,037,051, a gain of 12.3 per cent in quantity and of 11.3 per cent in value.

The first record of coal production in New Mexico was published in 1882, when the production amounted to 167,992 tons, about 4 per cent of the annual output at the present time.

The World's Remedy

You make no risky experiment when you use occasionally—whenver there is need—the most universally popular home remedy known—Beecham's Pills, which have stood the test of time with absolute success and their world-wide fame rests securely on proved merit.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

relieve the numerous ailments caused by defective action of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Cleansing the system, they purify the blood and tone body, brain and nerves. Beecham's Pills act quickly; they are always safe and reliable, and you may depend upon it they

Will Benefit You

Sold everywhere. In boxes 10c., 25c. Everyone—especially every woman—should read the directions with every box.

BALTIMORE & OHIO

$5.75

Connellsville to

Niagara Falls

AND RETURN

via Pittsburg and B. & P. R.

AUGUST 2, 23 and 30.

TICKETS GOOD FIVE DAYS.

Ask B. & O. R. R. Ticket Agent for Full Information.

Patronize Those Who Advertise

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Connelville, Pa., May 1, 1895.

THE CONNELL COMPANY, Publishers.

11. P. SNYDER, President and Managing Editor.
J. H. S. STIMMELL, Secretary and Treasurer.
JAMES A. DUNSCOLL, Advertising and Circulation Manager.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 22, 1913.

LETTING GEORGE DO IT.

The Clark act and the position of third class cities, embryonic and otherwise, under it is the subject of a great deal of public question and editorial deliberation here and elsewhere, especially since it has been announced that certain Connelville citizens will test the constitutionality of the law. This announcement develops the fact that, in spite of the entire absence of organized opposition to the Clark bill on the part of citizens of the third class cities of Pennsylvania, and an apparent utter indifference to its passage, there was and is nevertheless decided hostility. The Johnstown Leader reflects this hostility as follows:

"Connellville is having its own troubles with its municipal hat. The coke town became a city only after great groaning, pained and hot political plasters. Since the courts decided that the town was a city the council have been fighting a merry war. Now, basing their ideas largely on their own doubts as to whether they ever really became a city, members of a Municipal League have determined to drag the Clark act before the bar of justice and kill it with questions of constitutionality. Connelville, in carrying out this program, will perform a distinct service for all the other cities of the third class, including Johnstown, as it is a notorious fact that no enactment by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, or of any other state, may be considered as going into effect until it has been passed upon by the highest courts in the land. On municipal legislation, as precedents were fixed in the Pittsburgh ripper and other cases, nothing short of an opinion from the United States Supreme Court is satisfactory. So let Connelville go to it—sue pay the bills, which will no doubt be big enough to satisfy the craving of the Municipal League for litigation.

"Pittsburgh also wants to fight, or help Connelville fight, but may change its mind. Officially, it is inclined to accept the Clark charter. Harrisburg, or part of it, is again on the line, because Harrisburg was satisfied with the government and consequently believes that the Clark act was passed at the behest of a very small minority of the people of the third class cities of the state and of the state as a whole. Let us not dissuade them at present. Cities of the third class are blessed with greater legal acumen than Johnstown, they all need a lot of interpretation from the courts as to the meaning of some sections of the Clark act.

"Of course, Connelville is probably wrong in its notion that the Clark act does not apply to it because Connelville voted to become a city under the act of 1889 and never took an independent legislature that it wanted to be a city under the act of 1913. And Harrisburg is utterly wrong in its assumption that a referendum is necessary before the General Assembly has power to alter, amend or abolish the form of government of any municipality. Some folks who are Pro-Session now will be surprised to discover that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania 19 years ago and more, with the Republican party in full control, went so far as to say that no man, or any party, has a right to any public office which the General Assembly is bound to respect, even if the officeholder has been elected for a term of years by an overwhelming majority. It may be ripped out of his office by the simple process of abolishing the office, and the whole city of it, second or third class, may be wiped off the map as a city enjoying municipal rights under the state. So it is not a question for Connelville, Pittsville, or any other town or burg, what the General Assembly can do to a city, but simply one whether the legislature made their law good while they were about it."

Connellville voted with great unanimity to become a city under the act of 1889, but it is more than probable that a majority of its citizens prefer to remain a borough than to intrust the administration of their public affairs to such a close political corporation as that created by the Clark bill.

In common with these citizens, we are perfectly willing that Connelville's legal talent should smash the Clark bill to smithereens, but it has seemed to us that a reasonable interpretation of the law will sustain its application to Connelville if it is found to be proper legislation. The Courier believes with the Johnstown contemporary that the Clark bill was not demanded by a majority of the citizens of the third class cities of Pennsylvania, but it also inclines to the view that cities who are opposed to the bill could have secured its defeat had they put forth the proper effort. Their present opposition is in consequence without much public sympathy, but at the same time it is without trouble and expense to themselves.

"With one voice they say, 'Let Connelville do it!'"

CATFISH AND CRAWFISH.

The Connelville firemen are trying to secure the firemen's state convention for Connelville in 1914, and they reasonably expected the neighboring constabulary of Uniontown's department, but the latter at a meeting last night refused to endorse the Connelville movement. This action moves the Uniontown Herald to make this "catfish" remark: "Connellville will try to find the firemen's convention for 1914. Connelville couldn't land a catfish."

And instead used to be the home of the catfish. Just as Redstone creek was the abiding place of the crawfish. Connelville doesn't want to land a catfish, but if she did it is evident that she would not have the assistance of Uniontown. Connelville will land the convention, also a few crawfish.

CHARITY.

The proposition to suppress the beggary in Connelville comes none too soon. Deserving persons in distress should have charity, but where one door-to-door beggar is a proper object of sympathy ten are not. As a consequence kind-hearted people are constantly imposed upon.

There ought to be some way of separating the sheep from the goats, and the only safe and practical way that suggests itself to us is that the city administration undertake this work by establishing a charity department or agency, requiring that all applications for charity be made there and passing an ordinance making beggary from the citizens a misdemeanor.

The public charity of Connelville should be generous to a fault, but it should be just and fair in its distribution.

The West Virginia people have shown a spirit of hostility toward the West Penn water power improvement on the Ohio river that would be rather discouraging to the company under its present difficulties. The welcome extended to the West Penn was not to a big industrial development, but to large capital from which smaller chunks might be detached with least pounding or surreptitious dynamiting.

Turkey wants to make peace again. Wise old Turk.

We trust it will not be necessary for the citizens to patrol this promise with a shotgun in order to prevent such thieves from robbing one end of the house while he sits at the other.

The Water street fire was mostly smoke, but the smoke was somewhat suspicious.

It is safer and from every standpoint better that railroad wrecks should happen while trains are running at slow speed, even through urban communities if the speed cannot be elsewhere obtained, but we hope the Pennsylvania railroad will arrange to deposit the next few wrecks in some other community. Connelville is getting to be a regular dumping ground.

Lobbyist Mulhall seems to have been a regular wet nurse for all kinds of political booms.

The American sailors and marines who cleared up the Seattle Seaside were under great provocation. Their persons were assaulted and their patriotism insulted. People who insist upon putting the Red Rat before Old Glory must take what they get. It will be a bad day for the union when such national insults provoke no retaliation.

The weather man is getting more amiable this week.

The validity of a note payable thirty days "after death" is to be tested in a Connelville proceeding. If the note was given for a proper consideration the element of time, though quite unusual and peculiar, seems to be definitely fixed. If there is any injustice in the matter of interest charges the estate of the maker of the note is not the loser.

As our natural gas supply expands in volume its conservation increases in efficiency.

Senator Penrose is swinging around the circle. In spite of some insinuations to the contrary, it is evident that he is not afraid of the Common People.

"When it comes to printing inside information," says the admiring Uniontown Herald, "the esteemed Courier is there with the bells on." This is no joke.

Informers Mulhall's wholesale accusations are met by wholesale denials on the part of better men.

Bulgaria is not so bullyish.

The scarcity of labor is reported to be world-wide. It must be or labor would not be scarce in the Connelville coke region where it is better paid and better kept than it is in most other places.

Colonel Mulhall confesses to being something of a Warwick. He dealt in Presidential booms as well as Congressional ambitions.

The West Penn will either have to force the cows out, or put on cowcatchers.

Connellville is a convention town. The firemen will come here, of course, and they'll have a hot time, too.

The demand of the European Powers that Uncle Sam police Mexico, since by the Monroe Doctrine he has assumed the duty of doing so, is likely to prove somewhat embarrassing.

Abe Martin.

Life Bud bought a new home yesterday, paying fifty dollars down and the rest as long as he lives. If it wasn't for an occasional home made sign 'lunch at some reads would be pretty hard to travel.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

One Cent a Word.

No Advertisement for Less Than 10 Cents.
Classified columns close at noon.
Advertisements of wants, sales, etc., received after that hour will not appear until the day following.

Wanted.

WANTED—AT ONCE—TWO FIRST class thinners. W. M. PAUL, Vanderbilt, Pa. 22July22

WANTED—MAN ROOMER AND FOR meals. Apply 233 EAST MAIN ST. 22July22

WANTED—A COLORED COOK TO go camping. Address D. J., care of Courier. 22July22

WANTED—HOUSEKEEPER IN good family. Steady place. Good wages. Apply JOHNS W. FLANIGAN, Star Junction. 22July22

WANTED—TWO OLIVER PLANTS 1, 2 and 3 are running every day and can still take on a few more miners and coke drawers. Apply to Foreman of the respective plants. 22July22

For Rent.

FOR RENT—HOUSE IN EAST CONNELLSVILLE. Call 123 J. Bell Phone. 22July22

FOR RENT—TWO ROOM BRICK house on Main street. Steam heat. SAM GOODMAN. 22July22

FOR RENT—4 UNFURNISHED rooms with all conveniences. 233 E. ATLAS STREET. 22July22

FOR RENT—ONE FURNISHED room with bath and telephone. 300 WEST MAIN STREET. 22July22

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM for gentlemen. Centrally located. Conveniences. Tri-State phone 810-Y. 22July22

FOR RENT—HOUSE AND APARTMENTS. Good location. Inquire J. D. PORTER, Second National Bank Building. 22July22

FOR RENT—5 ROOM HOUSE 187 North First street. West side. CONNELLSVILLE WATER COMPANY, 203 Title & Trust Bldg. 22July22

For Sale.

FOR SALE—ADVERTISING SPACE in this paper. Ask for rates.

FOR SALE—HOUSE AND TWO acres. Good view. Good water. Healthy. Situated on the main highway. Price $600 cash or terms. Call to S. P. M. THOMAS R. BROWN, Mt. Braddock, Pa. 22July22

Notice.

THE SCHOOL BOARD OF LOWER Tipton township will meet at the High school house on Friday, July 26th at 8 o'clock P. M. to elect teachers for the ensuing term, also to receive bids for coal, supplies, etc. LEONARD DAVIS, President; H. G. COLBERT, Secretary. July 22-14-15-21-22

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Controller of Fayette County, Pennsylvania, at his office at Uniontown, Pa., until 12 o'clock noon, July 23, 1913, for the construction of approximately 6000 feet of asphalt concrete road in Redstone township, beginning at a point near Fairbanks Station and extending in an easterly direction to a point near the Uniontown township line. Plans and specifications for the construction of the same are on file in the commissioners' office.

The right is hereby reserved to reject any and all bids. THOMAS H. HUDSON, County Solicitor. 5-16-22-27July

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Board of Directors of Dunbar township, Fayette County, Pennsylvania, at the office of the South Penn Engineering Company, 214 North Second street, Connelville, Pa., until 5 o'clock P. M. Monday, July 22nd, 1913, for the construction of approximately 2075 lineal feet of brick road, with concrete curb, in Dunbar township. Beginning at a point at Lokar's Crossing and extending in a southerly direction to point where track of West Penn Railway Company crosses road near Greek Catholic Church.

Plans and specifications for construction of the above road will be had on request and leaving a deposit of $2.00 at South Penn Engineering Company's office, 214 North Second street, Connelville, Pa.

WILLIAM JACOBS, J. H. STONER, THOMAS KERN, Dunbar Township Board Supervisors. July 19-22-27

Charter Notice.

L. P. Monahan, Attorney at law, 351 Frick Annex, Pittsburgh, Pa. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT an application will be made to the Governor of Pennsylvania, on Thursday, July 24, 1913, by David Curtright, George S. Wilson and George Stanier, under the Act of Assembly entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved April 20, 1874, and the supplements thereto, for the charter of an intended corporation to be called "CURTIGHT COAL & COKE COMPANY," the character and object of which is for the purpose of mining, extracting and manufacturing the same into coke and other products, and the sale and transportation thereof in crude or manufactured form; and the buying, leasing, sub-leasing, holding and otherwise disposing of such real estate and personal property as may be necessary and convenient, and for those purposes to have, possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of said Act of Assembly and the supplements thereto. L. P. MONAHAN, Solicitor, 351 Frick Annex, Pittsburgh, Pa. 22July22

Houston, Texas.

By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Slawash."

Houston is either the greatest city in the southwest or not, depending on whether the Houston man who claims it is, is able to lick the Dallas and San Antonio man whom he meets. It is an ancient Texas city with a brand new boom on, and while it is not much larger than Rahway, N. J., or Yonkers, N. Y., it makes a noise which reverberates throughout ten states and is looked up to with great respect by all visitors.

Houston is situated in the eastern part of Texas in the midst of a snarl of railroads, and has 73,000 people. This is the bitterest thing in life to Houston. It thought it had 150,000 until the enumerators got busy. But those 73,000 can, out-bulk Denver's 200,000, and a Houston man can make a Kansas City man wait for two hours for a chance to get in a word about his city.

Faith in Houston and Buffalo Bayou constitute Houston's religion. Buffalo Bayou is an infant ship canal connecting Houston with the ocean. Some day it will grow up to accommodate the largest steamships, and every time a strange whistle is heard in Houston the populace rushes down to the Bayou to welcome the Lusitania.

Houston was founded in the thirteenth and was the capital of the republic of Texas. It is situated just north of the horned toad and hot tamale belt and is so modern that the Houston man who goes to New York gets himself disabused by bragging about Houston's hotels. It does the wholesale business for most of Texas, buys and sells more rice and cotton than any other city, has a brand new $5,000,000 university, counts that day lost in which it does not start a new skyscraper or lay out another suburb, and imitates a city of 300,000 in the quieter latitudes so successfully that visitors from Omaha have to be escorted across the congested streets by policemen.

"Every time a strange whistle is heard the populace rushes down to the Bayou to welcome the Lusitania."

scraper or lay out another suburb, and imitates a city of 300,000 in the quieter latitudes so successfully that visitors from Omaha have to be escorted across the congested streets by policemen. Houston points with pride to its climate, its bank clearings and its poet, Judd Mortimer Lewis, the only real poet in captivity in Texas.

Neat, New Patterns in Carpets and Rugs

That Have Just Arrived in This Big Second Floor Department

The woman who anticipates buying Floor Coverings for Fall will find this a good time to look them over and gather ideas regarding styles and colorings, and see the splendid qualities and beautiful designs that are now being shown at this store. It matters not what rooms you intend placing them in, or the price you expect to pay, we want to assure you that you will find our floor coverings (quality considered) the lowest in price of any in town. At any rate, give us a call. We will be only too glad to show them whether you buy or not.

All Percales 10c a Yard.

Special for Friday, July 25th.

Just for one day only we are going to offer every yard of percale in the house at a liberal reduction. This is a well selected line of patterns and 36 inches wide. Just for Friday only the yard ..... 10c

Our Corset Department

It matters not about your size or style, we have a corset here for you. We have made a study of the corset business and think we have done wisely in selecting the lines we have. Royal Worcester, Bon Ton and Nemo Corsets insure satisfaction wherever they have been given a fair trial, and we are sincere in recommending one for you. Prices $1.00 to $5.00. Also ask to see the De Voise Brassiere in all sizes at 50c, $1.00 and $1.50.

Colored Linen Suitings 50c

Buy them now and wear them away on your vacation. They are splendid fabrics for suits and one-piece dresses. Full 36 inches wide and strictly all linen. Come in all the leading shades at the yard ..... 50c

Butterick Patterns and Publications for August Here Store Closes at 5 P. M., Saturdays Excepted.

E. DUNN

N. PITTSBURG ST. CONNELLSVILLE.

Bath Room Accessories and Summer Comfort.

There is no time in the year when the bathroom is as much in use as in midsummer. During the hot days the shower bath and the cold tub are in constant demand.

Have you arranged your bathroom so that you and your family can have the benefit of modern convenience?

Have you an adequate shower bath? Have you soap, sponge, tooth brush and drinking glass holders? Have you glass shelves, toilet preparations and a medicine cabinet? Have you bath mats and a good supply of rough towels?—and so on, ad lib?

There are many bathroom accessories on the market planned for convenience and sanitation. The list is far too long to enumerate here, but if you are not already entirely familiar with what is to be had in this line, turn to the advertising columns of THE COURIER and learn something of the subject. You will be astonished to find how much real comfort you can procure for yourself and your family at very moderate cost.

Your Shoe Money

May be limited to a dollar and a half, or it may reach the six dollar mark—that is your business, you know what you ought to pay.

Our business is to see that you get your money's worth, whatever you pay.

And We Do

Men's, Women's, Boys', Misses and Children's Shoes and Oxfords. Our prices are not high, because our shoes are right. Come and be convinced.

HOOPER & LONG,

104 West Main Street.

This Shoe Store Is Busy Selling Men's and Women's Low Cuts and Pumps In All Leathers at

$1.00

Less Than the Regular Selling Price.

Downs' Shoe Store

Connellville's Leading High Grade Shoe Store.

For Women—Queen Quality, Ziegler Bros. For Men—Walkovers, Ham-ulster's.

Rummage Sale

ON

Furniture and Household Goods.

The many bargains we are offering in odd pieces of furniture such as chiffoniers, chairs, davenports, iron and brass beds, a great variety of tables, porch furniture, porch swings, and the many bargains we are offering in rugs, carpets, lace curtains, and other furnishings; the endless line of household and kitchen goods, which are being closed out at wonderful reductions in price, should interest every housekeeper in the coke region. It is bargain time; cleaning up time; money making time; investigate.

Union Supply Co.

63 Large Department Stores.

Located in Fayette, Westmoreland and Allegheny Counties.

MT. PLEASANT HAS A PAVING DISPUTE; LEGAL AID ASKED

Councilmen Go to Greensburg for Advice; Meeting Tonight.

ORDINANCE CAUSES A TANGLE

Provides Brick Must Be Used, But Dads Contract for a Patent Composition and Citizens Protest Can Assessments Not Collected by Law?

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, July 22.—Town Council has a tangle that will be further discussed at a special meeting tonight. There was a meeting last night when the contract for paving Washington street was let to the Holmes Construction Company. Contention plying, with concrete curb, was approved. Discovery was then made that the paving ordinance called for vitrified brick paving. Several citizens declare they will not stand for the patent paving being insisted that their assessments cannot be collected, because the ordinance calls specifically for brick.

Attorney Stevenson, of Pittsburgh, suggested that the ordinance be amended, but Eugene Soler, who is the town engineer, declared this would be illegal. A recess was taken to permit a trip to Greensburg today. The Holmes company has the contract and council faces the probability that property owners along Washington street may escape paying their two-thirds of the cost unless brick is used.

Ordinance was accepted for the grading, curbing and paving of Depot street and alley along Brewery, also for laying out, widening and extending of the street.

Scout Master Barney King and William Snyder were at Rogers Mill on Sunday when John Rodgers donated a camp site to Mr. King for his Boy Scouts. They will leave here on August 1st. There will be three patrols to go. Mr. King stated that a short distance from where their camp site will be that the Pittsburgh Y. M. C. A. boys are in camp. About 300 yards from their camp, 60 girls of the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh will go into camp next week. This is an ideal spot for camping. There is a swimming hole and fishing at the camp.

Reverend Lorimer and family are preparing to leave the camp site to be used by the Boy Scouts. They will be there during the time the Boy Scouts are in camp.

Frank Springer, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Springer of Hittman street, was riding a bicycle on the state road on Sunday evening when he ran into an automobile and was tossed into the air. He was gathered up and taken to his home where three stitches were put in his head and two stitches in his left leg. The Methodist Episcopal Sunday School will hold their annual picnic in the Marion Myers Orchard on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Overly of Mount Pleasant, were defendants at a hearing before Justice of the peace L. S. Rhodes last evening. Mrs. Overly had bought some chickens from a woman and when she bought these chickens cut one wing and put a wire under one wing of each. Last week one evening, all of the chickens were not at home and they were seen at Julian Hlensky's and on Sunday when the Overlys gathered in their chickens under a bar in a vacant lot the chickens staying at Hlensky's were found. Hlensky brought suit against the Overlys for stealing a chicken, which Constables Thompson and Ellis matched with the Overly brood and found all matched alike. Squire Rhodes dismissed the case and the prosecutor had to pay $13.42 costs and give Overly the chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoner and son, Ralph, are spending their vacation at Killarney.

Miss Ellen McDuff returned to her home at Gettysburg, yesterday, after a visit paid Mrs. Erskine Fox.

DICKERSON RUN.

DICKERSON RUN, July 22.—R. N. Hippie of Glassport, was visiting old friends here Saturday and Sunday.

W. P. Euse of North Dawsion, was transacting business here yesterday.

Fowler E. Newmyer of Uniontown, spent Saturday and Sunday here with his family.

Engineer and Mrs. Frank Showalter left yesterday on a two weeks' vacation which will be spent in New York and Toronto, Canada.

Louis Burnworth has returned to his work at Newell, after spending several days here with friends.

Miss Marie Beatty was the guest of Misses Elsie and Lillian Lint at South Connelville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson and daughter Virginia and Elvora have returned to their home at Brownsville, Texas, after a two weeks' visit here with relatives and friends.

DICKERSON RUN, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Lint and daughter Miss Lillian, have returned to their home at South Connelville after a very pleasant visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Lint.

Harry Strickler of Uniontown, spent Sunday here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Strickler.

Biddle Kornbeck, Frank Bute, Bert Newmyer and R. E. McLaughlin were transacting business in Uniontown on Saturday.

Mrs. Jacob Stoner and Mrs. William Durbin were shopping and calling on Connelville friends Saturday.

Mrs. George Ringer was shopping in Connelville Saturday evening.

Mrs. H. L. Hunt and daughter Miss Grace are spending a few days visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Selenday at Bridgeport.

J. L. Thomas is spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Shannon at Beaver.

Miss Anna McDonald, postmistress is spending a ten days' vacation.

E. J. Beatty was a Pittsburgh business caller here Saturday.

Statewide Primary Act Summarized.

The statewide primary bill establishes a general system for the nomination of all public offices in the state, from United States senators down to district officials and including party officers. However, there is a provision declaring the act to be suspended in relation to offices which are to be filled by non-partisan elections. It fixes the primary days as the third Tuesday of September in odd numbered years and the third Tuesday of May in even numbered years. Heretofore primary elections have been held on Saturdays. This year the primary will be held on September 16.

Heretofore the hours for primary elections have been from 2 to 8 P. M. The new act allows 12 hours for voting, fixing the hours from 7 A. M. to 7 P. M. As the governor already has signed a bill allowing election officers $5 for each election, regardless of the number of hours employed, there should be earlier returns made than heretofore.

However, where a party and a non-partisan primary are held at the same time, the party ballots are to be counted first. This means that at the local primary this year the returns for county officers will be counted before those for city officers, as the latter will likely come under the non-partisan primary.

One of the most important changes made in the primary law relates to the payment of taxes. Under a decision made several years ago by Judge John A. Evans of Allegheny county, a voter was compelled to pay his taxes 30 days before the primary, before becoming eligible to register. The new act specifically provides that the requirement of payment of taxes 30 days before election shall refer only to the general election which follows are primary. The requirement of assessment 60 days before election is given the same application. Under the Evans decision many voters were prevented from registering, and therefore lost their right to vote. However, as his decision was based on a constitutional provision, a test of the new law is anticipated. This affects cities of the three classes.

The primary this year will be held on September 16, and the election November 4. Under this new provision a voter will be able to make affidavit that he is a bona fide candidate before his name can go on the ticket. In the past men were put up as candidates without their knowledge, and confusion resulted from their withdrawal later.

The provisions of the present law permitting candidates to seek the nominations of more than one party at the primaries, which allowed fusion, and the nomination of candidates by nomination papers after the primaries, are retained. These provisions, however, are re-enacted, as the new law repeals entirely the present act.

The governor's approval of the act designates as political parties within the state entitled to participate in the primaries, all parties whose candidates at the last preceding general election polled in each of at least 10 counties, not less than 2 per cent of the largest vote, and in each of at least 10 counties, not less than 2 per cent of the largest vote cast. Parties within counties are to be those whose candidates at the last preceding election, general or municipal, cast 5 per cent of the entire vote.

All candidates for state and national offices, including state committee and other party officers are to be elected at the spring primary to be held on Tuesday of May.

Candidates for all municipal and county offices are to be nominated at the fall primary to be held on the third Tuesday of September.

Candidates to be voted for in more than one county must place under or after their names, the name of the county in which they reside. Candidates voted for within a county, must give name of city, ward, borough or township in which they reside.

An elector can sign but one nomination petition and declare that he is of the party named in the petition; also that he is qualified elector of the county or district in which the nomination is to be made. He must give his occupation, street and number of his residence and date of signature.

No nomination petition can be circulated prior to 60 days before the last day for filing such petition and no signature prior to this date will be counted. The last day for filing petitions for superior court judges this year will be August 19 and for local offices, August 25. Petitions therefore should be in circulation on June 25. The candidate therefore will not have the advantage of the full 60 days this year.

Some one must make affidavit that all signatures to petition comply with the act.

Each candidate must file with his petition an affidavit giving street and number of residence, postoffice address, election district in which he resides, name of office for which he consents to be a candidate and statement that he will not knowingly violate any election law. Candidates for President give only postoffice address.

This name of no person is to be printed on the ballot as a candidate for delegate, state committeeman, or party officer, unless he is a qualified elector of that party.

Where candidates for national delegate or alternate file statement that they will support for Presidential nomination, the candidate receiving the highest vote in district, it will be designated on the ballot. Where candidate fails to make such statement, ballot will state that he does not promise such support.

Nomination petitions for President, United States Senators, Governor, Congressmen and all other state officers, delegates or alternates to state or national committee, must be filed with secretary of commonwealth four weeks prior to primary. All such petitions are to be filed with county commissioners three weeks prior to the primary. Petitions for President or United States Senator must have signatures of at least 100 qualified voters in each of at least 10 counties; for state officers elected at large, signatures of 100 electors in each of at least five counties; congressmen, district delegate or state senator, 200 from district; state representative and state committeeman, or any office elected by entire county, 100 from county; inspector of election, five; all other officers, at least 10. Nomination petitions may be attacked in court, but if case is dismissed, those instituting suit must pay all costs, including witness fees.

Secretary of Commonwealth notifies candidates when he certifies names to county commissioners.

Present law relating to affidavit when challenged, is retained.

In case candidate dies after time for filing nomination petitions, the original signers may suggest new candidate. Vacancy after primary filled according to party rules. Any candidate for nomination, including President, can withdraw any time before 4 o'clock of Friday next succeeding the last day for filing petitions.

Each candidate shall have two watchers at primaries.

Each candidate shall have two watchers at primaries.

Each candidate shall have two watchers at primaries.

Each candidate shall have two watchers at primaries.

Each candidate shall have two watchers at primaries.

Each candidate shall have two watchers at primaries.

Another Week of Great Activity at The Big Store

And those who see with thoughtful and comprehending eyes will readily understand after a five minutes' walk through this vast building crowded with merchandise of the best grades at Outlet Sale Prices, why there are such great activities here.

You'll Find Outlet Sale Bargains in Every Department-- Look for Them--They're Wonderful.

Quality and low prices have joined hands to make the Manufacturers' Outlet Sale the Supreme Sale of the year. This is safe economy to practice, for every Outlet Sale Bargain is taken from regular stock or specially purchased from a manufacturer with whom we are well acquainted. In any event you are getting the best merchandise in the world for less than other stores can sell it.

All your summer needs can be supplied at one-fourth to one-half less than you must customarily pay.

Ladies 12 1/2c Vests 8c.
Sleeveless, gauze rib, very sheer and cool.

Ladies 20c Vests 15c.
Fine mercerized lisle, sleeveless, nicely finished top.

51x90 Sheets 59c.
Extra weight, regular 75c quality.

66-inch Table Linen, 31c.
Regular 50c quality, full mercerized, good assortment.

Lace Curtains $1.19.
Good choice of handsome patterns, worth $1.75 pair. Third floor.

Women's Silk Hose 39c.
50c quality, lisle sole, heel and toe; reinforced garter top, black and tan.

$25.00 Axminster Rugs, $19.85.
5x12, splendid quality, excellent designs. Third floor.

Lace Curtains Half Price.
Lace and scrim curtains, one and two pairs of a kind, to close out quickly, 1/2 price. Third floor.

$25.00 Axminster Rugs $14.95.
Size 8x10.6, extra quality, large assortment of handsome designs. Third floor.

72x90 Bed Sheets, 29c.
Bleached sheets of good quality muslin, worth 31.75 pair. Regularly.

Women's Union Suits 76c.
Low neck and sleeveless; fine gauge rib, very sheer and cool; lace trimmed knee, regularly $1.00.

Parasols at 25% Off.
Pretty parasols in silk, pongee and linen, all the preferred colors and styles.

Women's and Misses' Suits $7.50.
Spring suits in whipcords, serges and mixtures, worth up to $22.50.

Wash Dresses $2.95.
Colored wash dresses in a variety of pretty shades, values $5.50.

Children's Dresses 69c.
Made of gingham in plain, colors, checks, stripes and plaids, all sizes.

Women's $1.25 Night Gowns 79c.
Made of fine cambric, nicely trimmed.

Silk Petticoats 98c.
New petticoats in all desired colors, assorted lengths.

$2.95 Wash Skirts, 98c.
Linen, repp, crash and corduroy skirts, trimmed with large fancy buttons, values to $2.95.

McCall's Patterns meet all the requirements of the most fastidious. The very latest modes now ready. Also the new fashion books.

Our Great Outlet Sale Continues to Sparkle With Values.

It will well repay any woman to attend this sale and fill all corset needs for a long time to come. For this event offers unmatched values at about half regular prices.

Large and varied assortments—dozens of models—for the petite, average or slender figure—all of them are in this great Outlet Sale at tremendously low prices.

$2.00 and $2.50 Corsets, $1.49
Outlet Sale Price.....

Store Open Until 6 O'clock;
Saturday's
10 O'clock

KOBACKER'S
THE BIG STORE

Headquarters for Traveling
Bags,
Trunks, Etc.

A Message from the Sea

Get a whiff of salt air! Take a bath in the ocean spray! There is tonic and invigoration. A sail on the deep blue sea is a delight to mind and body.

The Forty Beaches of New Jersey

bid you come. Make a choice between Long Branch, Asbury Park, Ocean Grove, Spring Lake, Sea Girt, Point Pleasant, Seaside Park, or Beach Haven on the "Upper Coast."

Splendid train service from Broad Street Station or Market Street Wharf, Philadelphia.

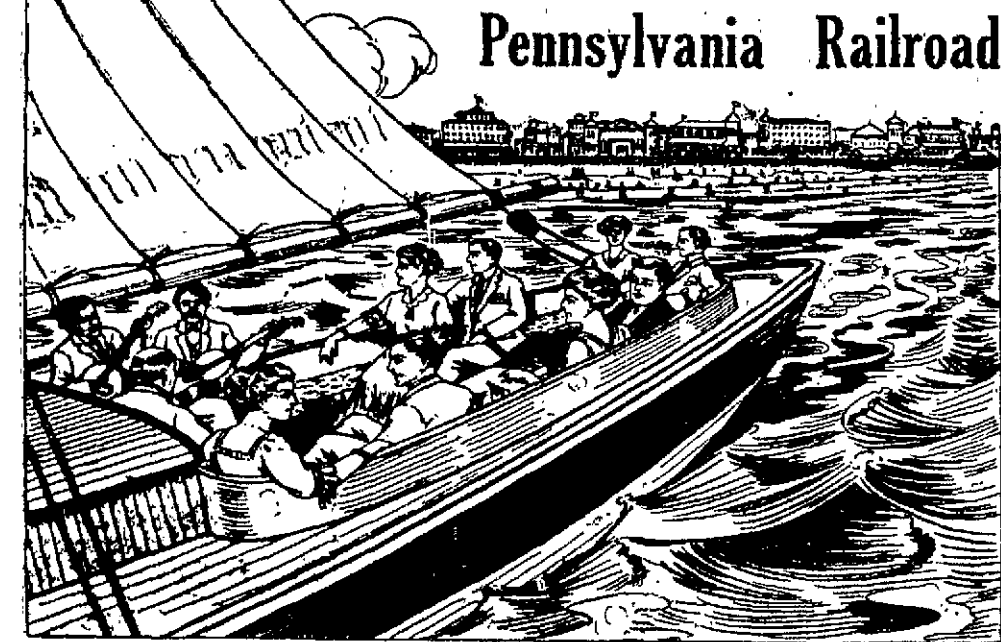

The "Lower Coast" offers Atlantic City, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Stone Harbor, Wildwood, and Cape May. All in two hours or less from Philadelphia.

Manifold attractions; good hotel accommodations to suit all purses; endless variety of entertainment; surf bathing, finest and safest in the world; sailing; deep sea fishing; crabbing and angling in the creeks and bays.

A trip to any of these resorts is an ideal holiday.

Accommodating tickets for the vacation period on sale at all ticket offices at attractive rates.

Ask Ticket Agents for time tables and excursion fares, or address E. Yungman, Division Passenger Agent, Room 212 Oliver Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Pennsylvania Railroad

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTTSDALE.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTSDALE, July 22.—Richard and Robert and Miss Rita Fleming of Richfield, Pa., and Miss Lucy Richardson of Lisbon, Ohio, were in Scottsdale over Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Engle. The Flemings are brothers and sister of Dr. J. C. Fleming of Spring street.

FROM HONEYMOON.

Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Griffith arrived home on Saturday from their honeymoon. Dr. Griffith is the physician for the American Sheet & Tinplate Company at this place and was married just recently, his wife being Miss Bright of Oakland.

FOR OPERATION.

Mrs. Nina Hutton of Kingsview has returned from the Passavant Hospital of Pittsburgh, where she underwent an operation.

A HOUSE PARTY.

Miss Frances Barnhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barnhart, has gone to Punxsutawney where she will spend a week at a house party given by Miss Virginia Beyers for six of her Allegheny college friends, of whom Miss Barnhart is one.

AT OLD PLACE.

Mrs. J. M. Thompson of Nonesson, came here to visit a few days ago, and as she was formerly one of the expert clerks in the Scottsdale offices of the American Sheet & Tinplate Company, the chief clerk prevailed upon her to help for a few days in a rush that has come on since Miss Mae Gordon, the clerk of that department, has gone on her vacation. Mrs. Thompson was before her marriage Miss Elsie Shockey and she is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shockey, LARGE CROWD OUT.

The golden concert of the Grand Army Band, it having given 50 of them with the one Monday evening, drew the biggest crowd of the season to Loucks Park. An interesting program was rendered.

NOTES.

Mrs. J. J. Jones of Chestnut street, accompanied by her three children, left on Saturday for Canton, Ohio, to visit Mrs. Jones' sister, Mrs. E. B. Jack.

Miss Grace Crouse of Pittsburgh is visiting her sister, Miss Edna L. Krouse, librarian of the Scottsdale Library. Miss Crouse was here some months ago with a lot of jewelry of artistic design which she makes. Miss Alice Sidaway of near town, went to Cumberland, Md., on Saturday to visit her brother, Harry Sidaway and family.

Rev. W. G. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was a visitor at Iron Bridge on Saturday afternoon. Rev. W. H. Myers preached at Jones Mills on Sunday.

Mrs. Sarah Morey of Owensdale, was a caller in Scottsdale Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sidaway were visiting their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ernon Sidaway of Connelville on Saturday evening. The latter has been ill with typhoid fever for about three weeks.

Rev. C. W. Hendrickson, pastor of the United Brethren Church, was at the Mount Pleasant hospital on Saturday afternoon visiting John Keagy, who is recovering after an operation for appendicitis.

Arthur G. Trimble of Pittsburgh was here over Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Trimble.

J. J. Dowling was a visitor to Mount Pleasant on Friday.

V. W. Zahner, the veteran shipping clerk of the Union Supply Company, was out on Saturday after several days' illness.

Philip McCabe of Kingsview, left on Saturday for a few days' trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bosworth and daughter, Helen, left over the Pennsylvania railroad for Bemus Point, on Saturday for a several days' stay.

Ivan Bonley and A. T. May drove to the motorcycle races at Youngwood on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Wilbert A. Gordon and children arrived home Monday evening from a visit with Mrs. J. C. May at Mill Run.

Mrs. J. A. Watson was visiting in the Indian Creek valley and returned home on Monday.

Try our classified advertisements.

STAR JUNCTION.

STAR JUNCTION, July 22.—Crammer, Edward, and daughter Mary Belle and niece Anna Mary Colborn were calling at Perryopolis last evening.

Paul G. Wagner of Connelville is calling in town.

James Knox is visiting relatives in Pittsburgh.

The Fancy Work Club met at a special meeting at the home of Mrs. T. M. Dunkle last night.

C. F. Eggers of Uniontown, was a business caller in town yesterday.

Miss Eva Blair of Connelville, is visiting relatives in town.

If M. McDonald of Dawson, was a business caller in town yesterday.

After Nasty Pests.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Wanted a crow extractor and a parrot exterminator. The health committee of the city council threatens to have an ordinance passed which will discriminate against roosters and parrots to the tune of $2 to $5 fines.

RELIANCE RUBBER ROOFING

Here's roofing you don't have to paint or repair. Here's roofing made so uniformly good that the manufacturers guarantee ten years service, or more, without painting or repairing.

Sample and booklet free.

F. T. EVANS,
Connellsville, Pa.

BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD

Sunday Excursions

50c OHIO PYLE and return.

65c KILLARNEY PARK and return.

SUNDAY, JULY 27.

SPECIAL TRAIN

Will leave Connelville 10.10 A. M.

WEAR Horner's Clothing

GINK AND DINK—Gink Finds It Hard to Be a Free Man.

By C. A. Voight.

SUN'S HEAT TO BE OUR BAROMETER

Weather Forecasts Will be Possible Months Ahead.

THE TESTS WILL TAKE YEARS

Professor Frost, Director of Yerkes Observatory, Predicts That Future Scientists Will Be Able to Tell the Temperature Six Months Ahead.

Great interest is manifested among scientists as the result of a published statement of Professor Edwin H. Frost, director of the Yerkes observatory, to the effect that it has been determined that the "solar constant" is in fact a variable quantity and that the effect of the change is not appreciable on earth until as long as six months after the change.

For this reason Professor Frost is of the opinion that eventually it may be possible to determine general weather conditions that far ahead—in other words, that careful observations of solar conditions will indicate what conditions may prevail on the earth later.

In addition to the observations made by Professor Frost similar observations have been made by Professor H. H. Kimball for the government at the station on Mount Weather.

In his statement Professor Frost declares that careful observations indicate that the late Professor S. P. Langley placed his estimate for the amount of heat absorption by the earth at too high a figure.

Professor Langley's Devices.

Professor Frost in his statement comments on the ingenious devices invented by Professor Langley, by which he measured the sun's heat, and on the discovery of C. G. Abbott and F. B. Fowler, who for the past ten years have been conducting their investigations at sea level and at Mount Wilson (6,000 feet), in southern California. He goes on to say:

"The most striking result of these investigations is the discovery by Abbott and Fowler that the 'solar constant' is not a constant, but a variable—in other words, that our sun is a variable star, like hundreds and thousands of others in the sky.

"It was nearly ten years ago that these investigators found evidence that the radiation of the sun was not steady from day to day, and ten years of work has been devoted to determining whether these apparent variations were really in the sun or due to errors of observation or to fluctuation in the absorption by the earth's atmosphere. They now feel justified in stating that these fluctuations are real and are in the sun itself, amounting to 5 per cent or more in a period of a week or ten days.

"Observations for sun spots have now been made long enough so that we know that they are more numerous every eleven years, slowly declining from a maximum number to a minimum number about seven years later and then rising again to a maximum about four years after the minimum.

Importance of the Discovery.

"The importance of this discovery of the variation in the sun's heat is probably obvious to the reader. The inhabitants of the earth are entirely dependent for their existence upon the results of agricultural work, and nothing is more certain than that the radiation from the sun lies at the basis of the principal weather elements in the earth's atmosphere.

"It should not be inferred that a sudden startling change in the sun's radiation produces an immediate effect in the terrestrial temperatures. The earth's atmosphere takes up these changes and gradually communicates them to the earth's surface. How soon and to what degree remains to be investigated.

"Continuous study, extended periods over many years, will be required to determine if these changes in radiation can be predicted in advance and if the laws can be determined which govern them. It is evidently a most practical problem, touching the interests of every inhabitant of the earth."

Humility kneels in the dust, but gazes at the skies.

REFINING SUGAR.

Process by Which the Best White Products Are Obtained.

The method used by the best sugar refineries is substantially as follows: The raw sugar is dissolved in large cylinders on the ground floor, enough hot water being added to produce a specific gravity of 1.25. The solution is then drawn through a connecting pipe having a coarse wire strainer into large pumps, by which it is pumped into the highest story of the building, usually the seventh or eighth. It there passes into vessels heated by steam coils to a temperature of about 210 F. Milk of lime is added to the solution in these pans for the purpose of neutralizing any acid which it may contain.

From these pans the liquid passes down to the next floor, where it is filtered through a series of bags, each made of two thicknesses of cloth, an outer one of coarse and an inner one of fine cotton. The bags are inclosed in boxes to prevent cooling. After leaving these the sirup is run through filters of boneblack, which absorbs all the coloring matter left in it. After leaving these it is pumped into vacuum pans—large vessels heated by steam and exhausted by air pumps. The pressure being thus reduced, the liquid is boiled at a lower and lower temperature until, at 140 degrees, evaporation is complete and the sirup rapidly crystallizes into sugar.

This is the process by which the best white sugar is made, while poorer qualities are prepared by a method less complete.—St. Louis Republic.

NAMING A JAPANESE BABY.

Sometimes It Is a Rite as Solem as a Bishop's Election.

Often the naming of a Japanese baby is a simple matter, for the father or grandfather speaking before the company the name of some famous man. If the child is a boy, or of some favorite flower, if it is a girl. For girls, Hanu, flower; Yuki, snow; Ai, love, are the favorites of parents with a poetical strain.

The sterner country folk choose for their daughters Matsui, pine; Take, bamboo (if the bamboo joints are exact, hence the exactness of virtue); Ume, plum, since the plum bears both cold and snow bravely. For boys, Ichiro, first boy; Toshio, smart; Iwano, strong, and Isami, brave, are very popular.

When belief is strong in the power of a name the family in holiday dress often assembles in a large room. Each writes a name upon a slip of paper and lays it reverently before the house shrine. From the group a very young child is chosen and led before this shrine, and the fate of the name is decided by the small hand which reaches out for a slip. Though it is a festive occasion, the selection of a name is made with a seriousness worthy of the election of a bishop. Many believe devoutly that this rite influences the baby's entire future, and therefore the one who slips in is chosen from the moment of choice great responsibility for the child's welfare.—Frances Little in Century Magazine.

The Name Saratoga.

The original name of Saratoga was "Saraghtigue." About the middle of the eighteenth century it was "Saraghtoga." During the administration of Governor Leisler it was "Saraghtoge." Isn't this quaint—from 1689?

Upon ye news yt three People should be killed at Bartol Vranians at Saraghtoge by ye Indians.

Resolved by ye Convention yt List Jochem Staats forthwith xoe with ten men to Saraghtoge to see how ye matter is, & bring us an account with ye first, & yt ye Cite send a Post hither with ye tidings.

Spelling reformers would be delighted with "kiki." And "ye" is shorter than "the," and "yt" is shorter than "that." "Goe" is expansive, but "forthwith" is a contraction.

Schoolcraft thinks that Saratoga is derived from the Indian words "sarata," sparkling, and "oga," place.—New York Press.

A Rimming Will.

Perhaps the most peculiar will ever written was probated in England at Doctors' Commons July 17, 1780. It ran as follows:

I give and bequeath, When I am laid underneath, To my two loving sisters, most dear, The whole of my store, Were it twice as much more, Which God's goodness has granted me here.

And, that none may prevent This my will and intent, Of occasion the least of law racket, With a solemn appeal I command, sign and seal, This the true act and deed of Will Jacket.

THIS PICTURE SHOWS WHAT SORT OF TROUBLE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT HAS.

FOR A PRETTY FACE.

Summer Girls Must Wear Sunbonnets.

OF SHIRRED WHITE LACE.

For out of door dining on the club veranda a hat of this description is enchanting. The material used is shirred white lace placed over a wire frame. Pink roses and wisteria in delicate lavender are massed at the sides. Streamers of wisteria velvet ribbon fall at the back.

A CUBIST AUTUMN.

Fall Fashions, It Is Said, Are Like Nightmares.

Autumn clothes, they say, will make it appear as though the feminine world had gone mad.

A recent exhibition of the Dry Goods Economist in New York city shows that the ultra swell dresses this fall will have to go to the apparent extreme limit if they keep pace with the new modes.

This fall will be the season of the flimsiest fit. They whisper also that it will be the season of the "skirtless skirt," the bodiless corset, the latherous and the crownless hat. Colors run the gamut. Purple will be seen superimposed upon orange, flame overlying emerald. Other favorite shades will be cherry, magenta, peacock, gold, all seen in combinations fearful to behold. Beads, even, have gone mad, and strings of beads are no longer of one color, but show sections of varied tints, and metal, glass and semiprecious stones are mingled in bizarre effects too odd to describe.

Buttons no longer look like buttons, but resemble "chunks of tuff, bits of rock candy or half size billiard balls."

Neck ruffles, top upward, outward, everywhere, in fact, but the way they are supposed to. Nothing appears as though it was sewed on straight. Nothing looks trim and neat.

Pat platings, bunchings, shirings, frills, will make the fat woman dumber and the thin woman look more angular than ever.

Yes, the cubist autumn is before us.

TRAMPS HAVE NERVE.

When Offered Work on Farm They Indulge in Merry Perilage.

Within the past fortnight Kansas officials have had calls from twenty towns asking what to do with a surplus of tramps. At Clay Center, Kan., twenty "sons of rest" were loitering in the park. When a farmer offered them $3 a day to work in the harvest they demanded $3.50. When that figure was met they demanded $4. The spokesman for the tramps asked the farmer:

"Is your land rolling or broken?" "Rolling," said the farmer. "Well, roll it in here, and we'll harvest it."

Pretty Useful Shoes.

It would be difficult to realize what the Frieslander would do without his klompen, or wooden shoes, for they have a hundred uses. With them he built out his boat, corrected his children and scooped up a drink of water wherever he may be. He places in them his worms for fishing, uses them as missiles in a free fight, digs with them, measures dry goods with them, and a hundred other things. The klompen are cheap; they cost about fifteen pence a pair, man's size, and Dutchmen's feet are not Chlorella-like by any means.—Wide World Magazine.

Bees Kill Chickens.

Two hundred pullets belonging to W. F. Weems, a poultry raiser, near Porterville, Cal., were stung to death by a swarm of bees. The bees are brought to that district every year during the orange blossom season. After the bees had attacked the chickens they continued down the road and attacked an automobile party.

Cookery Points

Summer Recipes.

Huckleberry Pudding.—A huckleberry pudding is made in this way: Cream a cupful of butter and the same amount of sugar. Then add the yolks of three eggs, beating in one at a time, and then the whites whipped stiff. Add half a cupful of milk and two cupfuls of flour, sifted with half a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Wash and look over a cupful of huckleberries and spread them on a clean dry towel or board to dry. When they are dry rub them with flour and add them to the batter. Bake the pudding in a round or square pudding dish well buttered. Serve with hard sauce flavored with nutmeg.

A good hard sauce for this pudding is made with half a cupful of butter beaten to a cream and thickened with a cupful of powdered sugar. Whip an egg white, light and stiff, season it with a grain or two of salt and a good deal of nutmeg and fold it lightly into the butter and sugar.

Huckleberry Dumplings.—Huckleberry dumplings are made with carefully cleaned fruit, a tablespoonful of which is put in each dumpling. Make the dumplings of a quart of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of salt, a piece of butter the size of an egg, a grated potato and enough milk to make a soft biscuit dough. Roll the dough half an inch thick and break it in pieces four inches square. In the center of each of these pieces put a tablespoonful of the berries. Pull up the edges of the dumplings and then lay them on a buttered pudding dish. Steam them until the fruit is soft. Serve with hard or brandy sauce.

Huckleberry Pie.—To make a delicious huckleberry pie line a plate with good paste and fill three cupfuls of washed and dried huckleberries in the center of the plate. Mix sufficient sugar to sweeten the berries with a teaspoonful of flour and sprinkle this over the berries. Then sprinkle the berries with a teaspoonful of lemon juice. Put on a top crust pricked in half a dozen places and bake slowly until the fruit is soft and the crust is brown.

Current Muffins.—One cupful of milk, two cupfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of fat, a quarter cupful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one egg, one-third cupful of currants. Mix and sift dry materials together, add milk, then beaten egg and melted fat. Stir in currants, which have been washed and sprinkled with a little flour. Bake in a moderate oven about twenty minutes.

Apple Fritters.—Cut tart peeled and cored apples into slices one-third of an inch thick, dip these slices into a fritter batter made of one pint of milk, three eggs and a saltspoonful of baking powder. Beat the eggs well, add first part of the milk, then the flour and rest of the milk alternately. Beat the batter together quickly, increase the slices of apple and drop in a kettle of deep, smoking hot fat.

Cream Blaque.—Cream blaque is liked by every lover of these bivalves. To make it steam open two dozen big, fresh clams and take from the shells. Chop them fine with a spray of parsley and a little onion and simmer them for thirty minutes with a cupful of water. Season with cloves, allspice and mace to taste. Thicken a quart of hot milk with two level tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, dissolved first in a little cold milk. Strain the clam mixture into the milk and serve immediately in bouillon cups, with a teaspoonful of whipped cream on top.

Breaded Chicken.

Cut a tender chicken into seven pieces as if for frying, roll in beaten yolks of two eggs, then in finely grated bread crumbs seasoned with chopped parsley, pepper and salt. Place in a dripping pan, dot the pieces with bits of butter, add a little water, bake slowly, basting often. When done take out chicken and make gravy in the pan by adding a mixture of four and butter. Make smooth by stirring.

Tomato Pudding.

One can tomatoes, two juicy red apples, one cupful bread crumbs, sev-

It Isn't Pleasant to Talk About

But it's something we all must face—the time when our friends will say: "He was a mighty good fellow; I'm sorry he has gone." You want them to say, too, don't you, "He took good care of his family—His will was carefully drawn and he named an absolutely reliable executor." They can truthfully say that about you if you entrust your estate or the guardianship of your children to this strong company whose perpetual life, thorough organization and financial responsibility insure faithful administration.

Your Will will be drawn and stored in our strong vaults without charge, if you avail yourself of our service.

YOUGH TRUST COMPANY,

"Where Helpful Service Is Assured."

Capital $200,000. Resources $1,116,000. Connellsville, Pa.

Efficient Service and Courteous Treatment

Has enabled us, within the past year, to double the number of our customers. Quite a number of persons and societies, with surplus funds, who do not want to tie up their money subject to the rules of a regular 4% account are taking advantage of our special 3% account. If you are a customer at this bank you will always find us willing to extend any reasonable accommodation on satisfactory security.

Our Customers Always Receive the Preference.

If you have a little ready money it will pay you to open an account with us, become acquainted, and take advantage of our service.

The Colonial National Bank

CONNELLSVILLE, PA. Corner Main and Pittsburg Streets.

4% Interest paid on Certificates and Time Deposits. Foreign Department equipped to give the best of service.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA. (WESTSIDE) West Side, Connellsville, Pa.

YOUR INCREASING DEPOSITS

show that you are building wisely for the future. No one knows how soon he may need ready cash, so it's always a good plan to have funds in reserve at the bank. New accounts are cordially invited.

4% Interest on Savings Accounts.

UNION NATIONAL BANK, Connellsville, Pa.

Judicious Spending

In saving money much depends upon economy and it behooves one to buy judiciously. Start an account with the Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania, and acquire the habit of regular deposits.

4% INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Title & Trust Company

of Western Penn'a. Connellsville, Pa.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County. Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

J. B. KURTZ,

NOTARY PUBLIC AND REAL ESTATE. No. 3 South Meadow Lane. Connellsville, Pa.

READ THE COURIER.

HE COMES UP SMILING

By Charles Sherman

Illustrated by Ray Walters

Copyright, 1913, by Charles Sherman Co.

"Sit down," ordered the Watermelon. "It's no cow, unfortunately. It's the general."

Billy glanced around. "I thought I heard some one cough."

"So did I. It can't be the general. He wouldn't cough."

A hollow cough sounded distinctly from the bushes behind and the Watermelon rose to investigate. It was nearly three and a half hours ago, or the man down yonder in the swimming hole might come after him to reclaim his clothes and motor-car. The Watermelon regarded every precious moment.

"Wait, and I will see what the mutt wants," said he. "You will wait, won't you?" he pleaded, looking down at her where she sat on the log.

"We really ought to go," said Billy.

"All right, but don't run off until I've cured that cough, will you?"

Billy nodded and the Watermelon strode to the bushes from whence had sounded the harsh, constrained cough. He pushed the branches aside and gazed into the small, pinched face of a thin youth of about eighteen, dressed in the uniform of the hotel.

"Hist," cautioned the boy, before the Watermelon could speak. "I want to tell you something important."

"All right, spit it out and be quick about it," ordered the Watermelon.

"I don't want to go to hear me," said the boy, with a motion toward the log and Billy's slim young back.

The Watermelon hesitated, but in the shifty eyes he saw fear and defiance. If he knew the Watermelon for a tramp, there would be no deference.

"Gwan, spit it out," ordered the Watermelon. "I ain't keen for the pleasure of hearing any of your heart to heart secrets."

"It's very important," said the boy, "and no one must hear."

"I suppose you think every one is bursting to hear your words of wisdom," said the Watermelon. "Probably get a dime a word, eh?"

"It's about you," said the boy, harsh with impatience and nervousness. "It's—"

"He drew a piece of paper from his pocket and held it out. 'He gave me that to send.'"

"Who are you?"

"The 'telegraph clerk,' whispered the boy, with a frightened glance toward Billy on the log.

The Watermelon read the paper and smiled a slow, sweet smile of anticipated pleasure at the full import of Bartlett's telegram became clear. He glanced at Billy and his smile deepened. Then he turned and drew the boy farther away.

"Bartlett sent this, eh?"

"Yes," cried the boy, eager with excitement over the service he was rendering the great man. "And the minute I read it and knew that you were here, I knew you ought to have it."

"Where is he now?"

"I seen him on the front porch with Miss Crossman. Say, you'd want to be going now, won't you, huh? You ken get to New York tonight if you hurry."

The Watermelon rattled the coins in his pockets and looked down at the thin, crafty face of the youngster. "Kid," said he, "if you keep on as you've begun, you'll be doing time, sure. You're a thieving little snipe and ought to be head of a corporation some day, or a United States senator, 'cause you haven't as much honor as a grasshopper, see? I don't know why you shouldn't land in Sing Sing, if you miss the corporation job or the senator."

"Huh," said the boy, reddening with the praise of the great man.

"If you let on that you have shown this to me, you will lose your job here, you know. So, until I can see my friend, J. Pierpont, about that other job for you, you'd better keep your mouth shut. Understand?"

"Sure," cried the boy. "Course I understand."

The Watermelon handed him a quarter. "When I reach New York," said he airily, "I'll send you me check for a thousand."

CHAPTER VII.

Watermelon Yields.

Eager to accomplish the plan he had suddenly conceived, the Watermelon turned and strode back to Billy, while the boy gazed after such majesty in awed admiration.

"Who was it?" asked Billy, looking up at the Watermelon approached.

"The telegraph clerk," said the Watermelon calmly. "A telegram—and he brought it to me."

He made no motion to sit down and Billy rose.

"I suppose you have to go back," said she. She had to throw back her head to see into his face, for the top of her bedewed hair only reached his shoulder.

"No," said the Watermelon, preparing the way for the future. "I could take a few days off, if I wanted to. Come on. I might as well try and save the remains of my car after the general has done his best to ruin it. I heard him go into the garage as we got out of sight. The general has more expensive than a motor-car."

"I like the general," said Billy, as they started slowly back.

"I suppose he has been like a grand-father to you," said the Watermelon, glancing down at the top of the big hat. "Don't you want me for a relative of some kind?"

"You said relatives were afflictions," observed Billy.

"I know, but it is only through our"

"Wait, and I will see what the mutt wants," said he. "You will wait, won't you?" he pleaded, looking down at her where she sat on the log.

"We really ought to go," said Billy.

"All right, but don't run off until I've cured that cough, will you?"

Billy nodded and the Watermelon strode to the bushes from whence had sounded the harsh, constrained cough. He pushed the branches aside and gazed into the small, pinched face of a thin youth of about eighteen, dressed in the uniform of the hotel.

"Hist," cautioned the boy, before the Watermelon could speak. "I want to tell you something important."

"All right, spit it out and be quick about it," ordered the Watermelon.

"I don't want to go to hear me," said the boy, with a motion toward the log and Billy's slim young back.

The Watermelon hesitated, but in the shifty eyes he saw fear and defiance. If he knew the Watermelon for a tramp, there would be no deference.

"Gwan, spit it out," ordered the Watermelon. "I ain't keen for the pleasure of hearing any of your heart to heart secrets."

"It's very important," said the boy, "and no one must hear."

"I suppose you think every one is bursting to hear your words of wisdom," said the Watermelon. "Probably get a dime a word, eh?"

"It's about you," said the boy, harsh with impatience and nervousness. "It's—"

"He drew a piece of paper from his pocket and held it out. 'He gave me that to send.'"

"Who are you?"

"The 'telegraph clerk,' whispered the boy, with a frightened glance toward Billy on the log.

The Watermelon read the paper and smiled a slow, sweet smile of anticipated pleasure at the full import of Bartlett's telegram became clear. He glanced at Billy and his smile deepened. Then he turned and drew the boy farther away.

"Bartlett sent this, eh?"

"Yes," cried the boy, eager with excitement over the service he was rendering the great man. "And the minute I read it and knew that you were here, I knew you ought to have it."

"Where is he now?"

"I seen him on the front porch with Miss Crossman. Say, you'd want to be going now, won't you, huh? You ken get to New York tonight if you hurry."

The Watermelon rattled the coins in his pockets and looked down at the thin, crafty face of the youngster. "Kid," said he, "if you keep on as you've begun, you'll be doing time, sure. You're a thieving little snipe and ought to be head of a corporation some day, or a United States senator, 'cause you haven't as much honor as a grasshopper, see? I don't know why you shouldn't land in Sing Sing, if you miss the corporation job or the senator."

"Huh," said the boy, reddening with the praise of the great man.

"If you let on that you have shown this to me, you will lose your job here, you know. So, until I can see my friend, J. Pierpont, about that other job for you, you'd better keep your mouth shut. Understand?"

"Sure," cried the boy. "Course I understand."

The Watermelon handed him a quarter. "When I reach New York," said he airily, "I'll send you me check for a thousand."

"I like the general," said Billy, as they started slowly back.

"But the general and Henrietta," objected Bartlett. "They only ran up here for the day, my dear. They may not have anything."

"Yes, we have," cried Henrietta. "We planned to stay a week or two and sent a trunk along. We could easily pack a suit case."

"Oh!" exclaimed Billy. "Do let's do it."

"I noticed a suit case in your car, Bartlett," Bartlett turned to the Watermelon, genially. "I judge you are planning to take a few days' jaunt somewhere."

"I was thinking of it," acknowledged the Watermelon, with truth, lounging gracefully in the doorway.

Bartlett laughed. "We are crazy, all of us," said he and waved the suggestion aside as a whimsical fancy best forgotten.

"Oh, daddy, please," teased Billy. "But, Billy, child, the others don't want to do it, the general or Bartlett."

"I want to," said Henrietta, "and so does the general. Father, wouldn't you like to take a trip in the car somewhere for a week or two?"

The general's attention had wandered back to the car. He turned absently. "Do what, Henrietta?"

"Take a trip in the car for a week or two."

"Yes, we must plan one later, as we did last summer."

"But we mean now, father, start right now."

"Now? Henrietta, you're foolish, my dear."

"No, indeed, father. Why not now? Do it now is your favorite motto, you know."

"It is impossible," and the general, also, dismissed the subject.

Bartlett thrust his hands in his pockets and appeared absorbed in his car. He knew Billy.

"Why, impossible?" asked Billy, laying a small hand on the general's arm. "You were going to spend a week here. Why not spend it in your car? You have no engagement, have you?"

"No," said the general, smiling into her pretty face. "But what about clothes?"

"Clothes," laughed Billy, "why, clothes."

"Be hanged," said the Watermelon. Bartlett laughed. "Quite so. Wash out on the line, general. Better come, said Henrietta, 'and you are given an hour to get into matching order.'"

"Ah, yes," cried the eager Billy, patting the arm she clung to. "You used to do it, general, why, in half an hour, out on the plains."

"What do you know about it, puss?" asked the general.

"Didn't you?" pleaded Billy.

"Yes," said the general, who always gave in to a pretty woman. "I used to in those days we were always ready for a fight."

"So you will go? I knew you would."

"But Mr. Bartlett and here to return to the city," suggested Henrietta, glancing at the Watermelon.

Bartlett shot a glance at the young man and began to whistle softly through his teeth as he indifferently raised the bonnet of his car and examined the clean well-oiled machinery within. Would Billy's charms be enough to hold the young man against his better judgment? Could he forget what the next week meant for him, forget the lure of the street, the rise and fall of stocks, the light of a woman's eyes, in the sound of a woman's laugh? If Billy could not keep him, what could? He must be kept. A week with him out of the way, the ring could be renewed, strengthened, that which was lost, regained. Bartlett bent low over his car, but he heard Billy, sweetly speaking to the Watermelon.

"You don't have to return to the city, do you? You would much rather go with us, wouldn't you?"

"Can't you join us, Bartlett?" asked the general. "You've made enough for one while. When you run out of"

"But the general and Henrietta," objected Bartlett. "They only ran up here for the day, my dear. They may not have anything."

"Yes, we have," cried Henrietta. "We planned to stay a week or two and sent a trunk along. We could easily pack a suit case."

"Oh!" exclaimed Billy. "Do let's do it."

"I noticed a suit case in your car, Bartlett," Bartlett turned to the Watermelon, genially. "I judge you are planning to take a few days' jaunt somewhere."

"I was thinking of it," acknowledged the Watermelon, with truth, lounging gracefully in the doorway.

Bartlett laughed. "We are crazy, all of us," said he and waved the suggestion aside as a whimsical fancy best forgotten.

"Oh, daddy, please," teased Billy. "But, Billy, child, the others don't want to do it, the general or Bartlett."

"I want to," said Henrietta, "and so does the general. Father, wouldn't you like to take a trip in the car somewhere for a week or two?"

The general's attention had wandered back to the car. He turned absently. "Do what, Henrietta?"

"Take a trip in the car for a week or two."

"Yes, we must plan one later, as we did last summer."

"But we mean now, father, start right now."

"Now? Henrietta, you're foolish, my dear."

"No, indeed, father. Why not now? Do it now is your favorite motto, you know."

"It is impossible," and the general, also, dismissed the subject.

Bartlett thrust his hands in his pockets and appeared absorbed in his car. He knew Billy.

"Why, impossible?" asked Billy, laying a small hand on the general's arm. "You were going to spend a week here. Why not spend it in your car? You have no engagement, have you?"

"No," said the general, smiling into her pretty face. "But what about clothes?"

"Clothes," laughed Billy, "why, clothes."

"Be hanged," said the Watermelon. Bartlett laughed. "Quite so. Wash out on the line, general. Better come, said Henrietta, 'and you are given an hour to get into matching order.'"

"Ah, yes," cried the eager Billy, patting the arm she clung to. "You used to do it, general, why, in half an hour, out on the plains."

"What do you know about it, puss?" asked the general.

"Didn't you?" pleaded Billy.

"Yes," said the general, who always gave in to a pretty woman. "I used to in those days we were always ready for a fight."

"So you will go? I knew you would."

"But Mr. Bartlett and here to return to the city," suggested Henrietta, glancing at the Watermelon.

Bartlett shot a glance at the young man and began to whistle softly through his teeth as he indifferently raised the bonnet of his car and examined the clean well-oiled machinery within. Would Billy's charms be enough to hold the young man against his better judgment? Could he forget what the next week meant for him, forget the lure of the street, the rise and fall of stocks, the light of a woman's eyes, in the sound of a woman's laugh? If Billy could not keep him, what could? He must be kept. A week with him out of the way, the ring could be renewed, strengthened, that which was lost, regained. Bartlett bent low over his car, but he heard Billy, sweetly speaking to the Watermelon.

"You don't have to return to the city, do you? You would much rather go with us, wouldn't you?"

"Can't you join us, Bartlett?" asked the general. "You've made enough for one while. When you run out of"

"But the general and Henrietta," objected Bartlett. "They only ran up here for the day, my dear. They may not have anything."

"Yes, we have," cried Henrietta. "We planned to stay a week or two and sent a trunk along. We could easily pack a suit case."

"Oh!" exclaimed Billy. "Do let's do it."

"I noticed a suit case in your car, Bartlett," Bartlett turned to the Watermelon, genially. "I judge you are planning to take a few days' jaunt somewhere."

"I was thinking of it," acknowledged the Watermelon, with truth, lounging gracefully in the doorway.

Bartlett laughed. "We are crazy, all of us," said he and waved the suggestion aside as a whimsical fancy best forgotten.

"Oh, daddy, please," teased Billy. "But, Billy, child, the others don't want to do it, the general or Bartlett."

"I want to," said Henrietta, "and so does the general. Father, wouldn't you like to take a trip in the car somewhere for a week or two?"

The general's attention had wandered back to the car. He turned absently. "Do what, Henrietta?"

"Take a trip in the car for a week or two."

"Yes, we must plan one later, as we did last summer."

"But we mean now, father, start right now."

"Now? Henrietta, you're foolish, my dear."

"No, indeed, father. Why not now? Do it now is your favorite motto, you know."

"It is impossible," and the general, also, dismissed the subject.

Bartlett thrust his hands in his pockets and appeared absorbed in his car. He knew Billy.

"Why, impossible?" asked Billy, laying a small hand on the general's arm. "You were going to spend a week here. Why not spend it in your car? You have no engagement, have you?"

"No," said the general, smiling into her pretty face. "But what about clothes?"

"Clothes," laughed Billy, "why, clothes."

"Be hanged," said the Watermelon. Bartlett laughed. "Quite so. Wash out on the line, general. Better come, said Henrietta, 'and you are given an hour to get into matching order.'"

"Ah, yes," cried the eager Billy, patting the arm she clung to. "You used to do it, general, why, in half an hour, out on the plains."

"What do you know about it, puss?" asked the general.

"Didn't you?" pleaded Billy.

"Yes," said the general, who always gave in to a pretty woman. "I used to in those days we were always ready for a fight."

"So you will go? I knew you would."

"But Mr. Bartlett and here to return to the city," suggested Henrietta, glancing at the Watermelon.

Bartlett shot a glance at the young man and began to whistle softly through his teeth as he indifferently raised the bonnet of his car and examined the clean well-oiled machinery within. Would Billy's charms be enough to hold the young man against his better judgment? Could he forget what the next week meant for him, forget the lure of the street, the rise and fall of stocks, the light of a woman's eyes, in the sound of a woman's laugh? If Billy could not keep him, what could? He must be kept. A week with him out of the way, the ring could be renewed, strengthened, that which was lost, regained. Bartlett bent low over his car, but he heard Billy, sweetly speaking to the Watermelon.

"You don't have to return to the city, do you? You would much rather go with us, wouldn't you?"

"Can't you join us, Bartlett?" asked the general. "You've made enough for one while. When you run out of"

"But the general and Henrietta," objected Bartlett. "They only ran up here for the day, my dear. They may not have anything."

"Yes, we have," cried Henrietta. "We planned to stay a week or two and sent a trunk along. We could easily pack a suit case."

"Oh!" exclaimed Billy. "Do let's do it."

"I noticed a suit case in your car, Bartlett," Bartlett turned to the Watermelon, genially. "I judge you are planning to take a few days' jaunt somewhere."

"I was thinking of it," acknowledged the Watermelon, with truth, lounging gracefully in the doorway.

Bartlett laughed. "We are crazy, all of us," said he and waved the suggestion aside as a whimsical fancy best forgotten.

"Oh, daddy, please," teased Billy. "But, Billy, child, the others don't want to do it, the general or Bartlett."

"I want to," said Henrietta, "and so does the general. Father, wouldn't you like to take a trip in the car somewhere for a week or two?"

The general's attention had wandered back to the car. He turned absently. "Do what, Henrietta?"

"Take a trip in the car for a week or two."

"Yes, we must plan one later, as we did last summer."

"But we mean now, father, start right now."

"Now? Henrietta, you're foolish, my dear."

"No, indeed, father. Why not now? Do it now is your favorite motto, you know."

"It is impossible," and the general, also, dismissed the subject.

Bartlett thrust his hands in his pockets and appeared absorbed in his car. He knew Billy.

"Why, impossible?" asked Billy, laying a small hand on the general's arm. "You were going to spend a week here. Why not spend it in your car? You have no engagement, have you?"

"No," said the general, smiling into her pretty face. "But what about clothes?"

"Clothes," laughed Billy, "why, clothes."

"Be hanged," said the Watermelon. Bartlett laughed. "Quite so. Wash out on the line, general. Better come, said Henrietta, 'and you are given an hour to get into matching order.'"

"Ah, yes," cried the eager Billy, patting the arm she clung to. "You used to do it, general, why, in half an hour, out on the plains."

"What do you know about it, puss?" asked the general.

"Didn't you?" pleaded Billy.

"Yes," said the general, who always gave in to a pretty woman. "I used to in those days we were always ready for a fight."

"So you will go? I knew you would."

"But Mr. Bartlett and here to return to the city," suggested Henrietta, glancing at the Watermelon.

Bartlett shot a glance at the young man and began to whistle softly through his teeth as he indifferently raised the bonnet of his car and examined the clean well-oiled machinery within. Would Billy's charms be enough to hold the young man against his better judgment? Could he forget what the next week meant for him, forget the lure of the street, the rise and fall of stocks, the light of a woman's eyes, in the sound of a woman's laugh? If Billy could not keep him, what could? He must be kept. A week with him out of the way, the ring could be renewed, strengthened, that which was lost, regained. Bartlett bent low over his car, but he heard Billy, sweetly speaking to the Watermelon.

"You don't have to return to the city, do you? You would much rather go with us, wouldn't you?"

"Can't you join us, Bartlett?" asked the general. "You've made enough for one while. When you run out of"

der the brim of her hat, into the gray-green eyes and smiled.

"Yes," he said simply. "I would like to."

CHAPTER VIII.

Gratitude is a Flower.

James lay in the shade of the butter-nut tree and gloomily. He was well-showered and his hair newly cut and carefully brushed, but his clothes were still the rags that had graced his muscular form since the dim, nearly forgotten long ago, when he had stolen them one lucky night from some back yard passed in the course of his travels.

He squinted at the sun through the tree tops and judged it to be about four. The Watermelon had evidently done no better or he would have turned up before. Mike, sprawled in the grass beside him, slept with the stentorian snoring of the corpulent. James kicked him.

VIRGINIA FURNACES FILE RATE PROTEST; CONTEND THEY LOSE

Allege in Complaint That They are Discriminated Against.

SAY NORTHERN FIRMS PROFIT

Six Firms, With Output of 500,000 Tons a Year, Want a Rate Adjustment that Will End Advantages of Ohio, Penna. and N. Y. Stocks.

Six Virginia furnace firms operating 12 stacks having a capacity of over 400,000 tons of pig iron annually have filed a complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission alleging that they are being discriminated against in freight rates to the advantage of Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York furnaces.

The complainants are: Low Moor Iron Company, with furnaces at Low Moor and Covington; Oriskany Ore & Iron Company, with furnaces at Iron Gate and Belva Vista; Goshen Iron Company, furnaces at Goshen; Princess Furnace Company, furnace at Glen Wilton; Pulaski Iron Company, furnace at Pulaski; Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke Company, with furnaces at Roanoke, Radford and Pulaski.

Rates on pig iron in carloads are the same from all the complainant's furnaces to north of the Potomac river, and, applicable to shipments either by Hagerstown, Md., or the Potomac yards are as follows: Hagerstown, Pa., $2.40; Baltimore, $2.45; Wilmington, Del., $2.75; Philadelphia, $3.00; Trenton, N. J., $3.25; Newark, N. J., $3.35; Jersey City, N. J., $3.35; New York City, $3.35, and Boston, $3.75.

Pointing out that their principal competitors are located at Pittsburg, Fulton, Pennsylvania; Josephine and Everett, Pa.; Youngstown, O., and Buffalo, the complainants say that per ton mile rates on shipments from the Virginia furnaces to destinations of substantially equal distances from the furnaces of competitors are from 20 to 50 per cent higher. To illustrate this contention, a table is produced showing the distance, rate and per ton mile rate from the furnaces of the Virginia makers and their competitors to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, these four cities being representative of the eastern destinations. Low Moor and Roanoke are used at the two Virginia points for comparison purposes, being the two principal shipping points of Virginia furnaces. One illustration will give an index of the situation: From Low Moor to Baltimore, a distance of 255 miles, the rate is $2.45 and the rate per ton mile is 9.6 mills; from Pittsburg to Baltimore, a distance of 329 miles, the rate is $2.15, and the rate per ton mile 6.5 mills.

Divisions of rates from Low Moor to the four cities are also shown in a table to prove that discriminations against the Virginia furnaces exist. It was recently that the complainants won a decision against the railroads which proposed to advance pig iron rates to Pennsylvania and New Jersey points. The carriers endeavored to route the traffic via the Potomac yards instead of via Port Norfolk.

MARKET IMPROVING

But Pig Iron Prices Must Advance or Furnaces Will Go Out.

Rogers, Brown & Co., Cincinnati, in their weekly pig iron and coke market review, say: "The indications of improvement in the iron market continue, at some points more pronounced than others. There is less range in southern iron than has been the case recently, minimum figures having been withdrawn, and advances of from 25 to 50 cents per ton registered. In the south, production has been decidedly increased and it was reported on July 1 there are five more idle furnaces than on the first of the previous month.

"The holiday of the past week introduced some features in the way of closed plants and curtailed production and shipments, for which the holiday alone is responsible. A good line of small buyers continues to be the rule, a majority of it done quietly and without general solicitation.

"Northern iron is irregular and inquiries, while not noticeably greater, continue at about the same rate. In the east much better inquiry is reported with considerable business in sight for third and fourth quarter delivery.

"The price of coke and the strength of the coke market generally is being seriously felt by the manufacturers of pig iron. Unless pig iron advances it is practically certain a number of merchant stacks will go out of blast, the price of coke being out of all proportion to the existing figures on pig iron. Coke is stronger in all districts than it has been in a long time. During the past week output and shipments were materially reduced on account of the holiday."

GEMS MINED IN UNITED STATES

Precious Stones are Widely Distributed and of Various Kinds.

Gems and precious stones were produced in the United States in 1912 to the value of $219,722, according to Douglas L. Sterrett, of the United States Geological Survey. The kinds of precious stones found in the United States are many, ranging from diamonds of fine quality to low-grade stones such as garnets, but as is seen from the total value of the output there are no really large operations.

The principal gem mineral mined in the United States during 1912 was Montana sapphires, of which there was a large output for use both as gems and in mechanical applications. The development of the opal deposits of Humboldt county, Nevada, was attended with much success, and a quantity of magnificent gem material was obtained. Prospecting and mining at the emerald mine in North Carolina were attended with only partial success. Two pockets or deposits of emerald were removed during the year; other developments consisted mainly of exploratory work, which has continued into 1913. The tourmaline output of southern California was small, but some magnificent specimen crystals were obtained. The production of turquoise was very small compared with some previous years.

Sports

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Scores Yesterday.
Brooklyn 13; Pittsburgh 6.
Philadelphia 3; Cincinnati 1.
Chicago 6; Boston 2.
New York 3, St. Louis 4.

Standing of the Clubs.
W. L. Pct.
New York ..... 53 26 .690

Philadelphia ..... 48 32 .600
Pittsburg ..... 44 40 .524
Cleveland ..... 41 43 .488
Brooklyn ..... 38 46 .452
Boston ..... 37 47 .434
St. Louis ..... 34 53 .391
Cincinnati ..... 33 55 .375

Today's Schedule.
Pittsburg at New York (2).
St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Scores Yesterday.
Washington 2; Chicago 1.
Cleveland 6, Boston 1.
Detroit 6, New York 1.
Philadelphia 11; St. Louis 8.

Standing of the Clubs.
W. L. Pct.
Philadelphia ..... 50 37 .573
Cleveland ..... 47 40 .538
Washington ..... 41 38 .519
Chicago ..... 40 41 .493
Boston ..... 42 41 .493
Detroit ..... 33 57 .400
St. Louis ..... 37 53 .411
New York ..... 24 68 .320

Today's Schedule.
Washington at Chicago.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Boston at Cleveland.

Big G Cures in 1 to 5 days Gonorrhea and Gleet. Guarantees not to recur. Price 25c. Sold everywhere. THE EVANS CHEMICAL CO., Cincinnati, O.

DR. BARNES PHYSICIAN AND SPECIALIST. Established 20 years. Permanent and Reliable. Modern Electrical and Medical Treatment for all General Diseases. DR. BARNES 108 West Main Street, Conneltsville, Pa. Telephone 100. Hours: 9 A.M. to 6 P.M.

"THE OLD RELIABLE" PLANTEN'S BLACK CAPSULES REMEDY FOR MEN. AT DRUGGISTS OR MAIL BOX BY MAIL FROM PLANTEN'S 35 HENRY ST. BROOKLYN, N.Y. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

STORE Closes Daily at 5.

Saturday's 10 P. M.

The store is full of Good, Dependable, First Quality Things

AT CLEARANCE PRICES

—and it's the never varying high quality of the merchandise that brings people here to get it under value. Foresighted shoppers are gathering things and laying them away to re-appear at Christmas time as gifts. Handkerchiefs, silk stockings, toilet requisites, fancy work, lengths of silk and lace, flouncings, silk petticoats and hundreds of other smart things priced very low to clear them away. ALL departments have offerings—Basement to Carpet Room. Come in this week and do a bit of advance Christmas shopping yourself—or buy for immediate use. It pays!

Women's Highest Class Wash Suits

Regularly $10, $13.50, $15, $18.50 and $20, all new and fresh . . . . . $4.95

ON SALE TO THIRTY WOMEN AT THE OPENING OF BUSINESS TUESDAY, 22nd

Finest quality of linens in different weights, ranging from a smooth suiting to an extra heavy crash weave. This lot—not the entire stock—and women will find the smart tailored styles, good any season. Colors are natural and oyster white, solid tones and stripe effects. Thirty some suits perfect in line and workmanship—regular Wright-Metzler merchandise—and not the sleazy, sale stuff of sweatshop origin that are frequently encountered in irresponsible stores. No woman, knowing the quality of Wright-Metzler apparel will hesitate in paying $4.95 for one of these suits, be it an original $10.00 garment or one higher priced. The skirt alone is fully worth the price we ask for the entire suit. One word explains the reason for this disposal—CLEARANCE.

LINEN SKIRTS of the Highest Style Type Have Prices Lowered One-Fourth

Women know that there is a penalty for buying things unrelated to their style. Sometimes it takes the form of making them "look as though their clothes had taken them out for a walk." That is one of the reasons why the woman-wise in the art of dress likes to buy her clothes at a place where new things are continuously coming in and the variety is great. She has that much more likelihood of finding the precisely right thing that brings out her personality.

Brand new linen skirts—fresh and fine—have their prices changed (because it is clearance time) thus:

$1.88 for $2.50 Skirts
$2.63 for $3.50 Skirts
$2.97 for $3.95 Skirts
$3.50 for $4.50 Skirts
$3.57 for $4.75 Skirts
$5.25 for $6.95 Skirts
$5.63 for $7.50 Skirts
$6.00 for $8.00 Skirts
$6.38 for $8.50 Skirts
$6.75 for $9.00 Skirts

Different weights of pure linen—natural color, blue, white with broad blue stripes, white and black stripes and checks. The very newest models—high waists, belts, pocket, pearl buttons—all lengths. Second Floor.

"Read about those wash suits, Mary, and be on hand for one—you'll need a suit to wear while away this summer."

Soiled

—these highest class rugs, but not damaged; and not soiled so bad that vigorous cleaning won't remove the marks of handling—and dust touches. Regularly, the prices are under those at other stores—quality for quality. The new low prices are way and below any yet quoted here.

ALL are 9x12 size.

Texture Reg'd Sales
Artloom Wilton ..... $50.00 $30.50
Arlington Wilton ..... $40.00 $23.75
Shuttleworth Wilton ..... $40.00 $23.75
Body Brussels ..... $27.50 $18.00
Wilton ..... $40.00 $23.75
Best Axminster ..... $25.00 $16.95

SUMMER CURTAINS—MADRAS. Beautifully cool and summery looking, and usable at dining room, library, bed room and hall windows, and for portieres. Blue, pink, red and yellow stripe effects. Half prices:

The 75c grade ..... $3.00
The $1.00 grade ..... $5.00
The $2.00 grade ..... $1.00
The $2.50 grade ..... $1.25
Carpet Room.

$3.50 Rapid Vacuum Washer 98c

The Daily Courier

Is going to show its usual public spirit by giving to its readers the most wonderful labor saving, money saving, time saving and fuel saving device ever offered to the public.

A BENEFACTOR TO THE WOMEN

Coupon On Page 2. Compressed Air Does the Work

AN EASY WASH DAY—NO BOILING—NO RUBBING.

No longer do you have to spend hours over the wash tub, no boiling, therefore no colors, it simply does away with drudgery. The Rapid Vacuum Washer is the most wonderful device ever offered the housewife, because it does away with the hardest work a woman is called to do and makes washing as easy as any other household work.

Start Cutting Your Coupons Today.

Do not let another wash day go by without having one of these vacuum washers in your home. The Courier has made it extremely easy for every woman to get one of these washers. All you have to do is to clip six coupons from The Daily Courier and present them at this office with 98 cents and receive a vacuum washer that will be worth to you many times the price you paid for it.

IT MEANS NO MORE DREADED WASH DAYS.

With hot water, melted soap, a tub and a vacuum washer, wash day will have no terrors for you. You can wash the finest fabrics in the same tub with ordinary white clothes, with no possible injury. You do not have to rub or boil your clothes for three or four hours and then rub until your hands are worn out. Simply put your clothes in hot soapy water and use the vacuum washer as directed and you will have the cleanest and whitest wash and a wash day you never thought possible.

Come and See This Wonderful

Vacuum Washer that will save your clothes, save your time, save your hands and save your back from many aches caused by bending over the wash tub. It will wash everything that is washable. Come in and look it over. It must be seen to be appreciated.

Every Vacuum Washer Absolutely Guaranteed.

SIX COUPONS AND 98 CENTS FOR THIS RAPID VACUUM CLOTHES WASHER

Sent by Parcels Post for 8 Cents Additional

It Pays to be a Reader of The Daily Courier

MONEY GOES FAR ON THESE ALLEY COTTONS.

Most of our choicest wash fabrics are sold down to lengths containing little more than enough for a dress. Remnants 50¢ at clearance prices.
27-inch Jouey Printings ..... 15c
15-inch French Ratines ..... $1.00
50c Striped Plaque ..... 25c
25c Scotch Gingham ..... 10c
15c Seersucker Gingham ..... 10c
12 1/2c Printed Lawns ..... 10c
85c Dress Linens ..... 55c
Drygoods Store.

DRESS PATTERNS OF FINEST IMPORTED COTTON.

$10.00 embroidered border voile patterns, 5 yards ..... $1.50
$10.00 striped crepe patterns, embroidered, 5 yards ..... $1.50
$13.50 voile, colored embroidery, 5 yards ..... $1.50
$11.50 crepe patterns, printed border, 5 yards ..... $1.50
$25.00 crepes, bordered ..... $1.50
$20.00 voiles, embroidered ..... $1.00
$27.50 voiles, embroidered ..... $1.75
$30.00 voiles, embroidered ..... $1.50
Drygoods Store.

THESE ARE GOOD SILKS BUT THEIR PRICES HAVE COME DOWN.

Small quantities of great lots we had here new in June. We will part with such as remain very quickly at these prices:
White Crepe de Chine, 40 inches wide, $1.50 grade ..... $1.00
Glensy Shower-Proof Foulard, 85c and $1.00 values ..... 75c
$2.00 Wash Silk ..... $1.55
—and other pieces.

LISLE GLOVES ARE PROBABLY THE COOLEST OF ALL.

They are certainly the best all around gloves for very hot weather wear—and you will find that all of ours are very comfortable. Light of weight, yet firm of weave, and they wash readily.
White Lisle ..... 25c pr.
White and natural chamoisette—washable, soft, dainty ..... 50c pr.
Chamoisette, 16 button length, white and natural, $1.00 values, 60c

Drygoods Store.

1/2 Price

25c to 75c draperies, certain lots—
Scrim—White figured.
Nets in barred designs.
Scrim, Voiles, Marquisettes—in printed designs.

1/3 Under Price

Certain silkolines, cretonnes, satens, repps, ottomans and other weaves, regularly 12 1/2¢ to 50¢ yard.

Wright-Metzler Company